INDEX 205
INTRODUCTION

1. The Church - The Presbyterian Church of Australia was constituted in Sydney on the 24th day of July, 1901, by the Union of the Presbyterian Churches of New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, Tasmania, Victoria and Western Australia.

2. Supreme Standard - The Supreme Standard of the Church is the Word of God contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, and which this Church regards as the only rule of faith and practice.

3. Subordinate Standard - The Subordinate Standard of the Church is the Westminster Confession of Faith, as amended by the General Assembly of Australia and read in the light of the Declaratory Statement contained in the Basis of Union. In this Statement the Church declares certain facts and doctrines to be vital to the Christian faith, and, whilst recognising liberty of opinion on matters in the Confession of Faith not essential to the doctrine therein taught, retains full authority in any case which may arise to determine what falls within this description and to guard against the abuse of this liberty to the injury of its unity and peace (Basis of Union).

4. Re-statement of Creed - The Church, believing in the promised guidance of the Holy Spirit and under a sense of direct responsibility to its ever-living Head, claims the right to interpret, revise, or abridge the Subordinate Standard, to restate its doctrine, and to change the formula, as duty may require.

5. Worship - “Worship”, the book of common order of the Presbyterian Church of Australia, is a guide to the orderly administration of the Sacraments and other Offices of the Church. The Westminster "Directory for the Public Worship of God”, may likewise be consulted.

6. Government - The only Head of the Church is the Lord Jesus Christ, from whom its powers and prerogatives are derived, so that all its functions are to be exercised in His Name, under the guidance of His Word and Spirit, and in subjection to His authority alone.

The spiritual oversight of the Church is vested in duly ordained presbyters, chosen by the communicants, and sitting in representative courts, designated sessions, presbyteries, and general assemblies, in gradation of authority in the order named.

The temporal affairs of the Church are administered by office-bearers, chosen by the members.

On the Spiritual Freedom of the Church and its relation to the Civil Power, see Chapter 7.

Members of the Church are reminded that all church government is based on the assumption that communicants and adherents will loyally observe the decisions of its courts and conform to the Christian spirit in which the Church exercises its functions. All members are therefore urged to unite in Christian fellowship and service in a spirit of brotherly love and in loyalty to the ever-living Head of the Church.

7. Church Crest - During its first session, 1901, the General Assembly of Australia adopted as its "emblematic device" the one in use in the Churches of New South Wales and Queensland, substituting the word "Australia" for the names of these States. The crest was approved by the New South Wales Assembly in 1883 and was first used in 1884. The Queensland Church adopted it in 1895. Besides the words "Presbyterian Church of Australia" and "Nec tamen consumebatur," the Crest consists of the Burning Bush, St. Andrew's Cross, the Southern Cross, a Latin Cross, a Rose, a Thistle, and a Shamrock.

8. Logo - The 2001 General Assembly (Min. 78(1)) resolved that the Assembly, “Without disowning the current Crest(s), approve and adopt as another visual emblem of the Church, a logo generally described as follows:

“A vertical, contrasting, stylized cross surrounded by five 5-pointed stars in the form of the Southern Cross, positioned in a solid oval angled at 30° right from the vertical.”

Notes
FOREWORD

Contents:
The 2004 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Australia resolved to approve the reprinting of The Code of the Presbyterian Church of Australia entitled Constitution, Procedure and Practice.

Although the term "Code" is often used to describe all or part of the material which comprises the Practice and Procedure of the Presbyterian Church of Australia, this material is not a "Code" in the same form as the Code of State Churches. Each State Assembly has a Code, being a codification in a single volume of numbered rules which comprise the laws of the State Church. The General Assembly of Australia has no equivalent set of codified rules. Rather the General Assembly of Australia "Code" comprises a variety of chapters which deal with the constitution of the Presbyterian Church of Australia and its practice in specific areas of its limited jurisdiction and with declarations made on particular subjects within its jurisdiction.

In the Constitution, Procedure and Practice of the Presbyterian Church of Australia there are twelve chapters, each (for convenience) comprising a document regarding the constitution of, or a declaration or enactment by, the General Assembly of Australia. In 2018 the Code Committee authorized the publication of a new edition incorporating all amendments made up to and including the 2016 meeting of the General Assembly.

Amendment:
The Scheme of Union is in two parts namely:

(a) the Basis of Union, which essentially declares matters of doctrine, and
(b) the Articles of Agreement, which essentially declare matters of administration.

Each of the Basis of Union and the Articles of Agreement have their own "Barrier Act" procedure. Section III of the Basis of Union provides that "any proposed revision or abridgement of the subordinate standard of the Church or re-statement of its doctrine or change of the formula" requires the consent of a majority of the State Assemblies, a three fifths majority of the Presbyteries and a three fifths majority of the members present at the General Assembly. Under such procedure, dissenting congregations may have rights (see Section IV).

Article 15 provides that the Articles may be amended with the prior consent of the majority of Presbyteries and the majority of State Assemblies. It has been the practice of the Church in accordance with usual "Barrier Act" procedure, although not strictly a requirement of the Articles, that any proposed amendment to the Articles will be remitted with the authority of the General Assembly of Australia. Accordingly, a proposed change is considered at two consecutive Assemblies.

A proposal to amend the Standing Orders may be dealt with at any meeting of the General Assembly but the proposal must come by way of Overtures.

Conclusion:
In accordance with the authority of the General Assembly the Code Committee has prepared this publication for the assistance of all members of the Church. The Committee hopes that the ready availability of these documents will assist in the more effective administration of the Church to the glory of God.

Convener, Code Committee

CHAPTER 1

THE SCHEME OF UNION

The Presbyterian Church of New South Wales, the Presbyterian Church of Victoria, the Presbyterian Church of Queensland, the Presbyterian Church of South Australia, the Presbyterian Church of Tasmania and the Presbyterian Church of Western Australia, holding the same doctrine, government, discipline, and form of worship, believing that it would be for the glory of God and the advancement of His Kingdom that they should form one Presbyterian Church, as hereinafter provided, to be called the Presbyterian Church of Australia, and under authority of Christ alone, the Head of the Church and Head over all things to His Church, agree to unite on the following basis and subject to the following articles to be subscribed by the Moderators of the respective churches in their names and on their behalf.

BASIS OF UNION

I  The Supreme Standard of the united church shall be the Word of God contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments.

II  The Subordinate Standard of the united church shall be the Westminster Confession of Faith, read in the light of the following declaratory statement:-

   1. That in regard to the doctrine of redemption as taught in the subordinate standard, and in consistency therewith, the love of God to all mankind, His gift of His Son to be the propitiation for the sins of the whole world, and the free offer of salvation to men without distinction on the grounds of Christ's all sufficient sacrifice, are regarded by this Church as vital to the Christian faith. And inasmuch as the Christian faith rests upon, and the Christian consciousness takes hold of, certain objective supernatural historic facts, especially the incarnation, the atoning life and death, and the resurrection and ascension of our Lord, and His bestowment of His Holy Spirit, this Church regards those whom it admits to the office of the Holy Ministry as pledged to give a chief place in their teaching to these cardinal facts, and to the message of redemption and reconciliation implied and manifested in them.
2. That the doctrine of God's eternal decree, including the doctrine of election to eternal life, is held as defined in the Confession of Faith, Chapter III, Section 1, where it is expressly stated that according to this doctrine, "neither is God the author of sin, nor is violence offered to the will of the creature, nor is the liberty or contingency of second causes taken away, but rather established"; and further, that the said doctrine is held in connection and harmony with the truth - that God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance, that He has provided a salvation sufficient for all, and adapted to all, and offered to all in the Gospel, and that every hearer of the Gospel is responsible for his dealing with the free and unrestricted offer of eternal life.

3. That while none are saved except through the mediation of Christ and by the grace of the Holy Spirit, Who worketh when and where and how it pleaseth Him; while the duty of sending the Gospel to the heathen who are sunk in ignorance, sin and misery is imperative; and while the outward and ordinary means of salvation for those capable of being called by the Word are the ordinances of the Gospel, in accepting the subordinate standard it is not required to be held that any who die in infancy are lost, or that God may not extend His Grace to any who are without the pale of ordinary means, as it may seem good in His sight.

4. That in holding and teaching, according to the Confession of Faith, the corruption of man's nature as fallen, this Church also maintains that there remain tokens of man's greatness as created in the image of God, that he possesses a knowledge of God and of duty - that he is responsible for compliance with the moral law and the call of the Gospel, and that, although unable without the aid of the Holy Spirit to return to God unto salvation, he is yet capable of affections and actions which of themselves are virtuous and praiseworthy.

5. That liberty of opinion is allowed on matters in the subordinate standard not essential to the doctrine therein taught, the Church guarding against the abuse of this liberty to the injury of its unity and peace.
6. That with regard to the doctrine of the civil magistrate and his authority and duty in the sphere of religion, as taught in the subordinate standard the church holds that the Lord Jesus Christ is the only King and Head of the Church, "and Head over all things to the Church, which is His body." It disclaims, accordingly, intolerant or persecuting principles and does not consider its office-bearers, in subscribing the Confession, as committed to any principles inconsistent with the liberty of conscience and the right of private judgement, declaring in the words of the Confession that "God alone is Lord of the conscience".

III Any proposed revision or abridgement of the subordinate standard of the Church, or restatement of its doctrine, or change of the formula, shall, before being adopted, be remitted to the local assemblies, and through them to the presbyteries, and no change shall be made without the consent of a majority of the local assemblies, three-fifths of the presbyteries of the whole Church, and a majority of three-fifths of the members present when the final vote of the General Assembly is taken.

IV On any change being made in the Basis of Union in accordance with Section III, if any congregation thereupon refuses to acquiesce in the change and determines to adhere to the original basis of union, the General Assembly is empowered - (1) to allow such congregation to retain all its congregational property; or (2) to deal in such other way with the said property as to the Assembly may seem just and equitable.

V Any proposed change in either of the two preceding Sections III and IV shall be made only under the provisions contained in section III.

VI Formula to be signed by ministers and elders at their ordination or induction, and by probationers on receiving licence:-

I own and accept the Subordinate Standard of this Church, with the explanations given in the articles contained in the declaratory statement, as an exhibition of the sense in which I understand the Holy Scriptures, and as a confession of my faith. I further own the purity of worship practised in this Church, and the Presbyterian government thereof to be founded on the Word of God, and agreeable thereto; and I promise that through the Grace of God I shall firmly and constantly adhere to the same, and to the utmost of my power shall in my station assert, maintain, and defend the doctrine, worship and government of this Church.

ENDNOTE:

1. The power under Section III has been used twice. Due to the shortage of ordained ministers during the First World War, the GAA in 1916 (BB 1916 Min. 70) amended the Confession of Faith Chapter XXVII, Section IV to allow for administration of the Sacraments by other than ordained ministers (see Chapter 4.2 of Constitution, Procedure and Practice).

In 1928 (BB 1928 Min. 57) the GAA amended the Confession of Faith Chapter XXIV Section IV to permit marriage of a man with his deceased wife’s sister, or of a woman with her deceased husband’s brother (see Chapter 5.1 of Constitution, Procedure and Practice).

2. When these amendments were made under Section III, no congregation exercised the right under Section IV to adhere to the original basis of union.

Notes
1. General Assembly

1.1 There shall be a Supreme Court of the Church which shall be called the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Australia.

1.2 The General Assembly shall meet in such places as it shall determine. such procedure requires the approval of a majority of the State Assemblies and a majority of the Presbyteries before the General Assembly may enact such a Rule as binding and effective, but subject to Article 2.3.

2.3 If the General Assembly resolves to remit under the Barrier Act procedure referred to in Article 2.2 a proposed new Rule (including repeal or amendment of a Rule), the General Assembly may by further resolution which is approved by not less than two thirds of those present and voting grant interim authority in which case the proposed new Rule shall take effect from the close of that meeting of the General Assembly to the next meeting of the General Assembly.

2.4 For the purposes of Article 2.2 the failure by a Presbytery or a State Assem-

11.6 No minister within the jurisdiction of a State Assembly connected with or liable to join a beneficiary, provident or superannuation fund or long service leave fund thereof shall be required to contribute to any such scheme of the General Assembly without the consent of the State Assembly.

11.7 The General Assembly may in co-operation with the State Assemblies seek to promote uniformity within the State Churches as to the conditions of service for Ministers, particularly in respect of the transfer of Ministers from one State to another State.

12. Insurance

An amendment may be moved without notice if in the opinion of the Moderator it arises in the course of a debate and does not alter the substance of the motion; should the Moderator rule that the proposed amendment affects the substance of the motion, it shall require, in addition to the Moderator's ruling that it has arisen in the course of debate, the Leave of the House.

When seconded
33. Except in Committee of the Whole, a motion or amendment shall be seconded before it can be debated or put to the vote.

Reserving a speech

Debate thereon
43. When an amendment is before the House, the debate shall be strictly confined to such amendment.

PROCEDURE IN DEBATE

Members called
44. When a member desires to speak, he shall rise in his place, but shall not speak until he is called on by the Chair. A member speaking in the Assembly shall address the Chair only.
Speak more than once
45. Each member may speak once to each question in debate, whether a motion or an amendment; but no member shall speak more than once to the same question, except (a) in explanation, (b) in stating and asking the ruling of the Chair on a point of order, (c) in reply at the close of a debate if he is the mover of the original motion, except in any debate involving counter motions, and (d) in Committee of the Whole.

Mover of amendment
46. A member who has spoken to the main question shall not afterwards move an amendment on it, but he may second or speak to an amendment moved by another member.

47. A mover of an amendment shall not afterwards speak to the main question.

Moderator leaves the Chair
48. The Moderator or Chairman of the Committee of the Whole shall take no part whatever in any debate. If he wishes to speak to any question or to give in a report of a committee, he shall leave the Chair. He shall also leave the Chair when any case arises in which he is a party.

The Moderator standing
49. When the Moderator or Chairman shall rise in his place, all members shall forthwith resume their seats and shall remain silent so that the Moderator or Chairman may be heard without interruption.

Interruptions
50. No member shall interrupt a speaker except for one or other of the following:
   (a) to state a point of order and to ask for a ruling of the Chair on it;
   (b) to call attention to a breach of the privileges of the House;
   (c) to make a personal explanation;
   (d) to move that the House sit in private;
   (e) to move the adjournment of the debate;
   (f) to move the "Previous Question";
   (g) to object to language deemed objectionable or reflecting on character.

Points of Order
51. Points of order must refer strictly to the order of the proceedings of the House.
52. A member raising a point of order shall simply state it and no other member shall speak at this stage.

The Moderator shall then:
(a) forthwith rule on the point
(b) ask certain members whom he selects to state their views on it, and afterwards rule on the point; or
(c) refer it to the House for decision by debate and vote.

Ruling of the Chair challenged

53. When the ruling of the Chair is challenged, the member who questions the ruling may be heard for not more than five minutes and, the Moderator or Chairman having been heard in reply, the vote shall be taken without further discussion.

Privilege

54. Questions of privilege take precedence over all other business and may at any time be brought forward by any member.

55. Questions of privilege must refer strictly to matters directly affecting the privileges of the Court or its members, which matters have recently emerged and call for present interposition.

56. If a question of privilege is brought forward in Committee of the Whole, the Committee shall forthwith report it to the court which alone can deal with questions of privilege.

The "Previous Question"

57. The "Previous Question" may be moved at any stage in a debate after the motion in debate has been moved and seconded, but not by anyone who has spoken to the main question or to an amendment thereupon.

58. The "Previous Question" shall be moved and seconded without debate and shall forthwith be put to the vote.

59. The "Previous Question" must refer to the motion before the House. It cannot be moved in a committee of the Whole House.

60. The carrying of the "Previous Question" shall mean that the court does not consider it expedient to discuss further, or to make a decision on, the motion before the House; and the effect shall be that the court forthwith departs from that motion and takes up the next motion or order of the day.
61. The negativing of the "Previous Question" shall not preclude its being moved again during the same debate.

Adjournments
62. A motion for the adjournment of (a) the debate, or (b) the court, or a motion in the Committee of the Whole "that the Committee report" may be made at any time and without notice.

63. Such a motion shall be put to the vote without debate.

64. The negativing of such motion shall not preclude its being moved again during the same debate or sederunt.

65. The adjournment of a debate may be moved by any member, including the member who is at the time speaking to the question in debate.

66. When an adjourned debate is resumed, the right of speaking first shall belong to the member whose speech was interrupted by the adjournment. If no speech was interrupted, the right of speaking first shall belong to the mover of the adjournment, provided that he has not already spoken to the question, whether a motion or an amendment, which was in debate when the adjournment was moved.

Procedural Motion
67. A motion, by which the House determines in what manner and/or when a question then in debate shall be dealt with, may be moved without notice at any stage in a debate and may itself be debated and amended.

Closed doors
68. The General Assembly may at any time close its doors and sit in private in consequence of a ruling by the Chair, or of a motion moved, seconded and put to the vote without debate; but cases or questions which have been discussed with closed doors in a lower court shall be so discussed in the higher court unless a motion to the contrary, duly made and seconded and put to the vote without debate, is carried.

69. The negativing of such motion shall not preclude its being moved again during the same debate or sederunt.
Character affected
70. In dealing with cases or questions which have been declared by the Chair to affect character or partake of the nature of personal disputes or misunderstandings, the House shall deliberate and decide thereon in private unless a motion to the contrary, duly made and seconded, is carried; and every such motion shall be put to the House without discussion.

Personal explanation
71. A member may at any time make a personal explanation.

Explanation in debate
72. If a member makes an explanation during a debate, it shall refer exclusively to some statement or statements made by himself which, in his opinion, one or more of the speakers in the debate have misapprehended. No other matter whatsoever shall be introduced into an explanation during a debate.

Objectionable language
73. Language ruled objectionable shall be forthwith withdrawn and apologised for by the speaker and in a manner satisfactory to the House.

74. When language used in debate seems to any member to be objectionable, he may forthwith, but not later, raise a point of order concerning it and ask for the ruling of the Chair. He may also demand that the words be taken down. The Moderator or Chairman shall, without debate, forthwith put the question, "that the words objected to be taken down", and, if this question is resolved in the affirmative, he shall direct the Clerk to take them down as ground for such further action as the House may think fit to take.

Laws not to be reflected on
75. No member is allowed to reflect on any law or decision of the Assembly except for the purpose of moving in a legitimate form that it be altered or rescinded.

Speech in reply
76. After the speech in reply, which shall contain no new matter, there shall be no further debate. Before the speech in reply is begun, the Moderator shall distinctly declare that it is to be a reply on the debate, and that thereafter the debate will be closed. Any member entitled to speak has then an opportunity of speaking to the main question before the speech in reply.
The Closure

77. When it shall appear to the Moderator or Chairman, during any debate, that the motion, or any amendment on it, has been adequately discussed and that it is the evident sense of the House that the question be now put, he may so inform the House, distinctly stating at the same time whether it is to the debate on the amendment only or to the debate on both the amendment and motion that the closure is to be applied. A motion "That the question be now put" may then, but not till then, be made and seconded without any remark or discussion. The Moderator or Chairman shall forthwith put this motion and, if the same be carried by a majority of at least two-thirds, the Moderator or Chairman shall forthwith put to the vote the motion, or the amendment only, or the amendment and the motion, as the case may be, without further debate.

Mode of taking the vote

78. The Moderator or Chairman shall endeavour to put the question at every convenient opportunity. He shall state the motion or amendment or shall cause it to be stated by the Clerk. Any member not distinctly hearing the motion or amendment so stated may require it to be stated again.

The Moderator interrupted

79. When the Moderator or Chairman shall rise in his place to state or put the question, he may be interrupted by, and shall give way to, any member who wishes to speak to the question, except when the debate has been closed by a speech in reply or by the application of the closure. A member may so intervene up to the moment when the Moderator or Chairman utters the words "Aye" in putting the question to the voices.

VOTING

Member's vote

80. A member may vote on a motion though he has not voted on any amendment to it.

Within the House

81. No member can, by voice or otherwise, give a vote outside the barrier.

Vote taken

82. (a) By the voices

The Moderator or Chairman shall take the vote by the voices. He shall put the question in this form: "The question is: Shall this motion (or amendment) pass? All who are of that opinion say 'Aye'." The "Ayes" shall then respond. The Moderator or Chairman shall further say, "All who are of the contrary opinion say 'No'." The "Noes" shall then respond. The Moderator or Chairman shall then say, as the case may appear to him to be, "I think the 'Ayes' (or the 'Noes') have it." If his opinion is acquiesced in by the silence of the House, he shall say "The 'Ayes' (or the 'Noes', as the case may be) have it", and the motion or amendment is passed or lost accordingly. Should there be no dissentient voice a unanimous vote may be recorded.

(b) By show of hands
If his opinion is challenged by one or more members saying "no", the vote shall be taken by a show of hands and the numbers shall not be recorded.

(c) By division or ballot
If the opinion of the Moderator is further challenged, the vote may be taken by either division or ballot.

Vote by ballot
83. A motion that the vote be taken by ballot shall be put without discussion and decided by a show of hands "for" or "against". Should such a motion be carried, it precludes the taking of the vote by a division. The result of a vote by ballot as reported to the Moderator in writing and declared by him to the House shall be final. The numbers shall be recorded in the minutes.

Vote by division
84. When a motion that the vote be taken by ballot has not been moved and carried any five members may demand a division. The names of those voting are recorded on the demand of five members, but numbers are recorded in any case.
When the vote is about to be taken by division, the bell shall be rung and after a lapse of two minutes the doors shall be locked and no one shall be allowed to enter or leave the House till the vote is taken. Two tellers on each side shall be appointed. Those "for" the motion or amendment shall go to the right and those "against" to the left of the Chair.
The result of the division, as reported in writing to the Moderator and declared by him to the House, shall be final.
Casting Vote
85. In the case of an equality of votes the Moderator or Chairman shall have a casting vote, but he usually votes so as to leave the matter voted on open for further consideration. He has no deliberative vote.

Questions not reconsidered
86. No question which has been decided at one sederunt of a court can be reconsidered at a subsequent sederunt during the same session.

DISSENTS
Dissent
87. A member may dissent from any resolution of a court on which he has voted, and he has the right to have his dissent recorded in the minutes; also his reasons if given forthwith. But he shall not dissent from a resolution, which has been carried on the voices, or from a resolution affirming or negating any amendment, or from any resolution of the Committee of the whole.

88. He may also, when the minute recording the dissent is brought forward for confirmation, give in, without comment, written reasons of dissent. These, provided they do not involve a breach of privilege, shall be received without debate and shall be kept in retentis.

89. The court may, if it thinks fit, give written answers to reasons of dissent, which answers shall be likewise kept in retentis. A motion to appoint a Special Committee to answer reasons of dissent shall be put to the vote without debate. The report of the Special Committee may be debated, and shall be dealt with as the court sees fit.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE
90. By a motion put to the vote a court may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole.
(a) All members of the court shall likewise be members of the Committee of the Whole.
(b) The court shall appoint the Chairman of the Committee.
(c) Separate minutes shall be kept of the proceedings.
(d) A motion need not be seconded.
(e) A member may speak more than once to the same question.
(f) No member may dissent from any resolution of the Committee.
(g) The proceedings shall be closed by the carrying of a resolution to report to the court on the matter committed, or to report progress and ask leave to sit again.

(h) The court shall forthwith resume, and the report of the Committee shall be given in.

(i) The report may be adopted with or without amendment, rejected, postponed, recommitted, or otherwise dealt with as the court sees fit. At this stage any member may exercise his privilege of dissent.

(j) Any of the other Standing Orders which are literally applicable to the proceedings of the court in session only shall, when applied to the proceedings of the Committee of the Whole, be read along with and be modified by the provisions of this section.

OVERTURES, PETITIONS, REFERENCES ETC.

91. All overtures, returns on remits, and all papers transmitted by the inferior courts shall be in the form of certified extracts from the minutes of the said courts.

Questions
92. Relevant questions may be put by any member through the Moderator to (a) overturists, (b) petitioners, (c) parties stating References, and (d) parties in any case when they shall have completed their respective statement.

Parties at the Bar
93. Overturists who are not members of the Assembly, petitioners, and parties duly commissioned to state References, Complaints and Appeals shall take their places at the bar when called by the Moderator, and they shall not leave the bar until they are formally dismissed from it by the Moderator.

The Moderator shall call the parties to the bar at the time when the Business Convener announces that the relevant matter is the next item of business to be considered by the Assembly. Parties at the bar shall have the right to challenge the competency of the matter before the House.

Two heard
94. References shall be stated, and overtures and petitions supported, by not more than two persons in each case.
Procedures in dissents and complaints and appeals

95. In dealing with an appeal or a complaint transmitted for its judgement a court:
(a) calls the parties (i.e., appellants or complainants and the respondent court) to its bar;
(b) hears read the record of the case in the inferior court, and relative documents, or if they are printed, may take them as read;
(c) hears the appellants or complainants or, if there are more than two, the representatives to a number it determines;
(d) hears the respondents appointed by the inferior court;
(e) hears the appellants or complainants in reply;
(f) calls for questions from members of the court;
(g) after removing all parties from the bar, deliberates on the case before it.

When parties are removed from the bar, it is at the discretion of the court, whether they be permitted to hear the discussion of the case.

When the court has reached a decision or judgement, parties shall be recalled to the bar by the Moderator, who shall then announce to them the decision or judgement of the court.

No document may be read or appear among the papers of the court (printed or written) unless it was before the court of first instance, or was offered to it and rejected, and has thence come up regularly.

Protestation

96. When a complaint or an appeal has been fallen from, the respondent shall make a protestation to the effect and shall be entitled to receive an extract minute of the same.

"Sustain", "Dismiss"

97. If a motion dealing with an overture, reference, complaint or appeal is negatived, the matter is still before the House, and shall be disposed of by another motion. For instance, if a motion to "sustain" or "dismiss" is negatived, it shall be followed by another motion to "dismiss" or "sustain", or by any other relevant and competent motion, until the matter is disposed of.

Reference dismissed

98. If a reference is informal or frivolous, or if it clearly appears that the inferior court has not exhausted all its resources in the matter, the Assembly may dismiss the reference without entering upon the consideration of the substance of the reference.

Petitions
99. A motion to grant the prayer of a petition (which includes the words "or do otherwise as the Assembly in its wisdom may deem fit") means that the court considers there are sufficient grounds in the petition to justify deliberation and decision. If the motion is approved, it is followed by another motion giving effect to the court's decision. If it is negatived, it is followed by a motion to "dismiss" the petition.

Documents in a case
100. All overtures, petitions, references, complaints and appeals, with all necessary relative papers, shall be printed and circulated among the members of the General Assembly at least one day before the business is taken up for discussion in the House. No other document shall be deemed part of the record unless it is expressly so ordered by a resolution duly moved, seconded and voted on. In complaints or appeals the expense of printing shall in the first instance be borne by the complainant or complainants or by the appellant or appellants, and by the party losing when the case is finally decided, unless remitted or distributed by the Assembly.

COMMITTEES - COMMISSIONS

Committees
101. The General Assembly shall appoint Standing and Special Committees and the Conveners thereof.
   (a) Three members of a committee shall constitute a quorum.
   (b) Motions need not be seconded.
   (c) A member may speak more than once to the same question.
   (d) The Convener, without leaving the chair, may speak to a question and may move motions or amendments, and he shall have both a deliberative and a casting vote.
   (e) A committee may, however, at any time resolve to be guided strictly by the formal Rules of Debate.
   (f) Any member of a court has a right to be present at a meeting of any of its committees, whether standing or special, and may be associated.
   (g) Reports of the proceedings of the committees shall not be published without their consent.
   (h) Any of the other Standing Orders which are literally applicable to the proceedings of a court shall, if applied to the proceedings of a standing or special committee, be read along with, and be modified by, the provisions of this section.

Commission
102. The General Assembly may appoint a Commission of one or more persons with full powers to deal with all matters submitted to it and any other urgent matters which may arise from time to time. When a Commission consists of two or more members, the Assembly appoints the Chairman.

STANDING ORDERS - SUSPENDED - AMENDED

Suspension of Standing Orders
103. These Standing orders may be suspended in whole or in part by a motion, notice of which shall have been given at a previous sederunt, duly moved, seconded and carried, or by a motion without notice if the court be unanimous. The purpose or purposes for which it is proposed that the Standing Orders be suspended shall be distinctly stated.

Amendment of Standing Orders
104. Any proposal to amend or add to these Standing Orders shall be introduced to the General Assembly by overture only.

Notes
CHAPTER 3
- GENERAL RULES FOR OVERTURES, PETITIONS AND REFERENCES

1. GENERAL

1.01 Authority
These rules are enacted by the Assembly pursuant to its general legislative function as contained in the Articles, in particular Articles 2 and 14.

1.02 Definitions
In these rules:
“Articles” means the Articles of Agreement as contained in the Scheme of Union as amended from time to time.
“Assembly” means the General Assembly of the Church.
“Barrier Act procedure” means the procedures (which reflects the Barrier Act 1697 of the Church of Scotland) whereby the Articles or any Rules may be added to or altered in any way, being the procedure:
(a) in the case of Articles – as contained in Article 15
(b) in the case of the Basis of Union – as contained in Clause III of the Basis of Union
(c) in the case of a Rule – as contained in Article 2.2.
“Church” has the same meaning as in the Articles.
“Committee” means a committee of the Assembly established under Article 4.1.
“Overturist” means the committee, court or persons who bring forward an overture pursuant to Rule 2.03.
“Rule” has the same meaning as in the Articles.

1.03 Standing Orders
Procedural issues relating to overtures, petitions and references are contained in the Standing Orders of the Assembly. These Rules shall be read in conjunction with the relevant Standing Orders. In the event of any inconsistency between these Rules and the Standing Orders, the provisions of these Rules shall prevail.

2. OVERTURES

2.01 Overture
An overture is a formal written proposal submitted to the Assembly:
(a) for the enactment of any alteration to either the Basis of Union or the Articles,
(b) for the enactment of any other change (by addition of any new law or repeal or amendment of an existing law) to any Rules of the Church,
(c) for a declaration or interpretation of the law or practice of the Church on some particular point, or
(d) to have something done or declared which is for the general benefit of the Church.

Only matters of general interest may be brought by overture.

2.02 Form of overture
An overture for the enactment of a new law or the amendment of an existing law ought to specify what is desired in the very words in which it would stand if granted. Overtures of vague indefinite proposals, although their aim may seem to be good, may be dismissed as irrelevant.

2.03 Who may overture
An overture may be made to the Assembly by:
(a) a Committee,
(b) any seven members of the Assembly drawn from at least two of the States,
(c) a State Assembly, or
(d) a Presbytery.

2.04 Obligations of Overturist
An Overturist is required to:
(a) see that the overture is in due form,
(b) include in the recitals to the overture:
   (i) the opinion of the Overturist that the overture seeks a decision of the Assembly which is within the jurisdiction of the Assembly,
   (ii) reference to the authority pursuant to which the Assembly may give effect to the overture.
(c) appoint two members of the Overturists to support it in the Assembly, and
(d) see that the overture is properly expressed.

2.05 Notice to be given
An overture shall not be moved unless notice of it has been given:
(a) at a previous sederunt of the Assembly, or
(b) in the papers for the Assembly submitted to members prior to the first sederunt of an Assembly.
2.06 Presbytery Overture

Any overture from a Presbytery to the Assembly shall be transmitted through the State Assembly which shall forward it with or without comment or with approval or disapproval. A State Assembly is not entitled to refuse to transmit an overture which is presented in proper form. A Presbytery may transmit an overture to the Assembly direct when no regular meeting of the State Assembly intervenes between the meeting of the Presbytery at which it was approved and the Assembly.

2.07 Proceedings not judicial

The Assembly when considering an overture is not exercising its judicial function and the stating of an overture does not bring parties to its bar or exclude any members of the Assembly from participating and voting in the proceedings relative thereto.

2.08 Several overtures

If there are several overtures on substantially the same subject only one person is heard in support of each.

2.09 Receiving and stating an overture

Before an overture can be stated in the Assembly it must be formally received. Only members of the Assembly or others specifically appointed for the purpose by the Overturist from its own members may state an overture. If no one appears to state the overture it falls without motion to that effect. Once an overture is stated it is before the Assembly and must be disposed of.

2.10 Questions and motion

After the overture has been stated members of the Assembly may put relevant questions to the persons stating the overture through the moderator. After questions have been answered the persons stating the overture if they are members of the Assembly have the right in priority to other members:

(a) to move that the overture be sustained and, if the motion is approved,

(b) to move that the specific action proposed in the overture or such other necessary action be taken.

2.11 How dealt with

An overture is either:
(a) sustained by the Assembly and the specific matter proposed in the overture approved in its original or amended form, or
(b) sustained and sent down to State Assemblies and Presbyteries in its original or amended form under Barrier Act procedure, or
(c) sustained and sent down to State Assembly and Presbyteries in its original or amended form for consideration and report, or
(d) is dismissed.

2.12 Remit apart from Barrier Act procedure
The Assembly may remit any subject to State Assemblies and Presbyteries for their suggestion, opinion and report apart from Barrier Act procedure. Under such a remit State Assemblies and Presbyteries may either approve or disapprove the proposal in its present form or may approve it with amendments. Upon such a remit and the returns thereon the Assembly does not pass the overture into a law of the Church.

2.13 Remit under Barrier Act procedure
Before an overture can pass into a law of the Church, it must be approved by the Assembly and sent down to State Assemblies and Presbyteries under Barrier Act procedure. Presbyteries and State Assemblies must either approve or disapprove the overture. Any suggestions from a Presbytery or State Assembly of a possible reconsideration of the subject of an overture under Barrier Act procedure must be kept entirely distinct from the approval or disapproval of the overture.

2.14 Interim Authority
If the object of an overture transmitted under Barrier Act procedure is for a change to a Rule the Assembly may consider whether to grant interim authority under Article 2.3. The Scheme of Union does not permit the granting of interim authority for any proposal to enact a change to the Basis of Union or the Articles.

2.15 Declaratory Statements
These Rules regarding overtures do not prejudice the right of the Assembly to declare what the Assembly understands the law of the Church to be on any point on which questions have been raised which are within the jurisdiction of the Assembly. Such declarations may be passed by the Assembly itself without reference to State Assemblies and Presbyteries.
3. PETITIONS

3.01 Petition
A petition is a written and signed request in approved form made to the Assembly and usually relating only to the affairs of the petitioner. It must be in respectful language and usually includes a statement of circumstances or reasons which are held by the petitioner to justify the specific request made.

3.02 Who may petition
Any inferior court or any congregation, committee or organization of the Church or any person or group of persons within the jurisdiction of the courts of the Church has the right of approach to the Assembly by petition. The Assembly may at its discretion receive and deal with a petition from any person other than the aforesaid.

3.03 Matter and form
Petitions must be what they profess to be. They must pray for something which is within the jurisdiction of the Assembly to grant and which could not have been or cannot be otherwise constitutionally obtained. A petition reviewing the judgement of an inferior court which might have been appealed or complained against is irregular and cannot be received. But petition may competently be used when the petitioner:
(a) has been obstructed in the petitioner’s right of appeal or complaint in an inferior court,
(b) is not legally qualified to proceed by appeal or complaint, or
(c) being a court of the Church, cannot conveniently deal with a matter before it otherwise than by petitioning the Assembly to take action.

3.04 Assistance
Sessions, Presbyteries and State Assemblies should assist communicants and adherents of the Church in preparing petitions so as to prevent their being rejected on the ground of informality or other defect.

3.05 Who at bar
A petitioner is a party at the bar. If any member of the Assembly is a petitioner to it, singly or with others, the member is at the bar during that business and until it is disposed of. A member cannot present the petition of others.
3.06 Procedure
A petition is read or at least so much is read as to indicate its subject or its character. Such reading may show that it cannot competently or with propriety be received. The first question is whether it is to be received. If this requires to be discussed the petitioner ordinarily is heard but its subject or character may be such that the Assembly may refuse to hear the petitioner even on that. When the petition has been received the Assembly proceeds to consider its answer to the prayer of the petition.

3.07 Others concerned
When a petition affects the interests of others the petitioner must supply them in reasonable time and by either personal delivery or certified mail with,
(a) a copy of the petition, and
(b) notice of the time and place of the meeting of the Assembly at which the petitioner has asked or will ask that the petition be heard.
The petitioner must inform the Clerk of the Assembly in writing that this has been done. If the Assembly after receiving the petition is not satisfied that sufficient intimation has been given to others concerned it orders the petitioner to serve a copy of the petition on them with a citation to attend.

4. REFERENCES

4.01 Reference
A reference is a document containing matters of difficulty or of importance which are stated and referred by resolution of an inferior court for opinion or advice by the Assembly, being within the jurisdiction of the Assembly.

4.02 How transmitted
A reference is transmitted in the form of a properly attested extract minute of the resolution to refer accompanied by all relevant documents and if there are persons who have a direct interest in the matter they must be notified by the court referring.

4.03 Reference stated
The reference when taken up is stated by a member of the court from which it has come and the statement shall show what the subject matter is and why it has been referred. No question on a point of form or order can be raised except by the moderator until the reference shall have been stated.
4.04 How dealt with
The Assembly may then decline to entertain the reference or it may sustain the reference which means that the matter is properly before the Assembly and may then be discussed on its merits.

4.05 Right to vote
Any members of the inferior court who are members of the Assembly retain their right both to deliberate and vote.

4.06 Disapproved but taken up
The Assembly may find that there was not sufficient ground for referring the case and that the inferior court should have addressed itself to the adjudication of the same. When any delay has created hardship to any person having a direct interest in the matter the Assembly may proceed to determine the issue.

4.07 Further procedure
Unless the decision of the Assembly determines the issues of the case the inferior court is directed to proceed in it according to the laws of the Church.

5. APPEALS AND COMPLAINTS

5.01 Appeal
An appeal is a signed document given in by a person who is or was a party at the bar in a case before the court. It contains the reasons which are the grounds of the appeal against a decision of the court and is designed to bring that decision under the review of a superior court. The appeal must also state the grounds upon which the appellant alleges that GAA has jurisdiction. The party appealing must either give in the appeal at the time the decision is announced to him or else at that time protest for leave to appeal and an inferior court must inform any parties at its bar of this requirement when judgement is given.

5.02 Complaint
A dissent and complaint, referred to herein as a complaint, is a signed document given in by a member of a court who neither is nor was at its bar in a case before the court. It contains his reasons for complaining against a decision of the court on which the complainant has voted in the minority and is designed to bring that decision under review by a superior court. The complaint must also state the grounds upon which the complainant alleges that GAA has jurisdiction. Separate reasons for dissent are not given in. The member says: "I dissent and protest for leave to complain" and the complaint is either given in at the time or within the period hereinafter provided.

5.03 Reasons of appeal or complaint
Reasons of appeal or complaint shall include any of the following: Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, refusal of reasonable indulgence to a party in the conduct of the case, reception of irrelevant evidence, refusal to receive relevant evidence, mistake or injustice in the judgement, undue haste in proceeding to judgement, judgement against evidence or the weight of evidence or denial of natural justice.

5.04 Resolution of Disputes
When an appeal, a complaint, or a petition to resolve a dispute is to come before the Assembly, the Clerk may appoint a minimum of five Assessors (appointed under Article 13) and shall advise the parties to enter into negotiations with these Assessors for the purpose of seeking to resolve the dispute. The content of such negotiations shall be confidential to the parties. The Clerk shall report to the Assembly whether negotiations were held or not held in cases of unresolved disputes.

5.05 Respondents and appellants
No more than two appellants or complainants and no more than two respondents have a right to present the case.

5.06 Answers
Written answers to reasons of appeal or complaint are not required. If answers are prepared the inferior court may adjust and adopt them or it may authorise the respondents to give the answers they prepare as the answers of the court.

5.07 Documents
A court transmits without delay to its superior court any appeal or complaint which it has received against one of its own decisions together with all records and documents connected therewith. The responsibility rests with an appellant or complainant to be satisfied that all documents necessary have been forwarded to the superior court.
5.08 Failure to appear
If an appellant or complainant fails to appear at the bar at the time appointed the appeal or complaint is held to have been fallen from unless the court for due cause shown otherwise order. Where sickness is relied upon as the reason for failure to appear a medical certificate must be produced.

5.09 Appeal or complaint fallen from
When an appeal or a complaint is not proceeded with a member of the court whose decision was appealed or complained against should take protestation in the superior court that the appeal or complaint has been fallen from and that the decision of the inferior court has become final and should request extracts. This protestation after being recorded in the minutes is supplied by the clerk as an extract minute.

5.10 Death of appellant
In the event of the death of an appellant the appellate court may allow the representatives of the appellant or a member of the court authorised in that behalf to appear in the interests of the good name or the estate of the appellant should such matters be involved in the appeal.

5.11 Parties at the bar
An appeal or complaint places at the bar of the superior court, and prevents from voting in the case, the following persons:
(a) The appellant(s) or complainant(s).
(b) The respondent(s).
(c) Those who were members of the inferior court at the time when the decision appealed or complained against was arrived at though they may in the interim have become members of another inferior court.
(d) Those who were associated with the inferior court while the matter appealed or complained against was before the inferior court.
(e) Those who have been admitted into the inferior court subsequent to its decision and before the appeal or complaint has been dealt with.

5.12 Arguments
Parties in an appeal or complaint should confine their arguments to the points to which the appeal or complaint refers as set forth in the record.

5.13 Procedure
In appeals or complaints the procedure is:
(a) Parties are called to the bar.
(b) The minutes of the inferior court and relative documents are read, or if they are printed, may be taken as read.
(c) The court considers the issue of jurisdiction relating to the appeal/complaint, and proceeds to resolve to accept or reject jurisdiction.
(d) Previous to hearing parties in an appeal or complaint the clerk shall read the following announcement: "As the decision of the court is determined not only by the documents in the case but also by the pleadings at the bar, the members are reminded that justice requires the pleadings at the bar to be heard by all those who vote in the case and that, in particular, no member ought to vote against either party who has not heard the pleadings on that side".
(e) The appellants or complainants are heard.
(f) The respondents are heard.
(g) The appellants or complainants are heard in reply.
(h) Questions may be put through the moderator to the parties by members of the court. If the court sees cause, any question and answer may be recorded in the minutes.
(i) The parties are removed from the bar. When parties are removed from the bar, it is at the discretion of the court whether they be permitted to hear the discussion of the case.
(j) The court considers the case and proceeds to judgement.
(k) Parties are recalled and the finding is intimated to them.

5.14 How dealt with
An appeal or complaint is usually sustained or dismissed in whole or in part and in either case the judgement of the inferior court may be modified or altered as the superior court may think fit.

5.15 Sustained
An appeal or complaint is sustained because the decision of the inferior court is disapproved or because of irregularities or informalities in the procedure of the inferior court. The sustaining of an appeal or complaint on the ground of irregularities or informalities does not necessarily imply the reversal of the decision appealed against unless it is considered that substantial injustice has been done to the appellant or complainant through such irregularities. The superior court without entering on the merit of the decision appealed or complained against or without pronouncing any judgement in regard to it may send back the case to the inferior court with particular instruction or with instructions to have it taken up anew and disposed of in accordance with the laws of the Church.
5.16 Dismissed
The dismissing of an appeal or complaint implies approval of the procedure and confirmation of the decision of the inferior court.

5.17 Protestation
When a complaint or an appeal has been fallen from, the respondent shall make protestation to that effect and shall be entitled to receive an extract minute of the same.

Notes
4.1 Rightful Subjects of Baptism, 1906

At the General Assembly (1905) attention was drawn to the following facts, viz., that a difference of view exists in the Church with respect to the children who should be regarded as rightful subjects of Christian Baptism, and a diversity of practice among those with whom lies the duty of administering this ordinance.

The Assembly regarded the matter as sufficiently important to appoint a Committee to draw up a short statement of the Church’s doctrine on the subject, together with such instructions as might be helpful in guiding Ministers and Church Sessions.

The view of the Church with regard to the children to whom baptism should be administered is explicitly stated in the Confession of Faith and in the Larger and Shorter Catechisms.

The Shorter Catechism, Question 95, says:
"Infants of such as are members of the visible Church are to be baptised."

The Larger Catechism, Question 166, says:
"Infants descending from parents, either or both professing faith in Christ, are to be baptised."

The Confession of Faith (Chapter XXVIII Section IV) says:
"Not only those that do actually profess Christ, but also the infants of one or both believing parents are to be baptised."

This view which makes Christian faith on the part of at least one of the parents essential to the validity of the ordinance, is the only one which is in accordance with the nature of the ordinance as that is set before us in the Scriptures. As great spiritual truths are symbolised in this ordinance, and obligations of a special kind with regard to the training of the children are incurred, by those who receive baptism for their children, to administer this Sacrament to the children of such parents as are without Christian faith, degrades the ordinance to a meaningless form, and brings parents under responsibilities which they are unable to discharge.

The Assembly therefore, would counsel Ministers and Sessions to take heed that the ordinance be administered only to the children of such parents as are one or both communicants of the Church, or who, being themselves baptised, make such a profession of faith as would entitle them to become full members of the Church and partakers of the Lord’s Supper.

They would further suggest that the following questions, or questions of a similar kind, be put to those who are not communicants of a Christian Church, who are seeking to have their children baptised:

(i) Do you believe in God the Father Almighty, in Jesus Christ the Saviour of the world, Who in His Love gave His life for the world’s redemption, and in the Holy Spirit the Sanctifier?
(ii) Do you believe in the Christian Church as an institution founded by Christ, in which all who are regularly baptised have a place as members?
(iii) Do you engage to bring up your child (or children), as far as you are able, in the knowledge of God and of His holy will?
(iv) Do you agree so to order your lives as will set before your child an example of holy living?

4.2.1 Administration of the Sacraments - Special Provision.

Chapter XXVII, Section IV, of the Confession of Faith is as follows:

There be only two sacraments ordained by Christ our Lord in the Gospel, that is to say, Baptism and the Supper of the Lord: neither of which may be dispensed by any but by a Minister of the Word lawfully ordained. It was amended (G.A.A. Blue Book 1914 Min. 61, 1916, Minute 71) so that it reads: “There be only two Sacraments ordained by Christ our Lord in the Gospel, that is to say, Baptism and the Supper of the Lord: neither of which may be dispensed by any but a Minister of the Word lawfully ordained (saving where the General Assembly has made special provision to the contrary that the people of God may not be left without these sealing ordinances).

4.2.2 Administration of the Sacraments by Home Missionaries and Elders:

Home missionaries appointed by the relevant state home mission committee, and elders set apart by a presbytery to perform special pastoral work in either a home mission station, vacant charge, or an area requiring missionary activity to commence and develop a church, may be authorised by the ordained minister or interim moderator of the bounds to celebrate the sacraments.
The minister or interim moderator of the bounds shall be responsible to presbytery for the manner in which the sacraments are celebrated and all such cases are to be duly reported to the presbytery. Presbyteries when authorising elders, and home mission committees when authorising home missionaries, are counselled to exercise care so that only elders or home missionaries who have an adequate understanding of the theology of the sacraments and who have proven themselves by service to be suitable to take special responsibilities are appointed and given the right to celebrate the sacraments.

In administering the sacraments elders and home missionaries shall consult and use the forms in the most recently approved book of common order of the Presbyterian Church of Australia.

Elders and home missionaries authorised to administer the sacraments under this provision shall not do so except in their sphere of work and on occasions fixed by the Kirk Session.

4.3 Administration of the Sacraments by ministers of churches other than the Presbyterian Church of Australia.

Unless other provisions are made by the General Assembly of Australia the sacraments of the Church may be administered only by the following persons:

(a) A person who has the status of a minister of the Presbyterian Church of Australia and who is able to perform ministerial functions.

(b) A Home Missionary granted permission to administer the sacraments in terms of the regulations of the General Assembly of Australia.

(c) A person who has the status of an ordained minister of a reformed or Presbyterian Church and who has been duly authorised to administer the sacraments by the presbytery of the bounds in particular circumstances e.g., an exchange ministry, an interim ministry during a vacancy, of which circumstances the presbytery shall be the sole judge.

Notwithstanding the previous provision, ministers of the Presbyterian Church of Australia may, with the approval of the presbytery of the bounds and in special circumstances, invite a minister of another church to administer the Sacraments.
CHAPTER 5
- DETERMINATIONS ON SEX, GENDER, MARRIAGE, AND DIVORCE

5.1 Marriage and Divorce:

Chapter XXIV, Section IV, of the Confession of Faith is as follows:

Marriage: Marriage ought not to be within the degrees of consanguinity or affinity forbidden in the Word; nor can such incestuous marriages ever be made lawful by any law of man or consent of parties, so as those persons may live together as man and wife. The man may not marry any of his wife's kindred nearer in blood than he may of his own; nor the woman of her husband's kindred nearer in blood than of her own.

The second sentence of this section was amended (G.A.A. Blue Book, 1912 Minute 53, and pages 130 to 136; 1914 Minute 113; 1926 Minute 42) so that it read: 1928 Min. 57: "The man may not marry any of his wife's kindred nearer in blood than he may of his own, nor the woman of her husband's kindred nearer in blood than of her own, except the case of a deceased wife's sister, or the case of a deceased husband's brother."

The laws of the Church require that the parties to a marriage shall not be within the degrees of consanguinity or affinity forbidden by the Word of God (in this respect consanguinity and affinity are equivalent); that they be both unmarried; and that they are of years of discretion fit to make their own choice or upon good grounds to give mutual consent; or, if under age, that they have obtained the necessary consent required by law. See Confession of Faith, Chapter XXIV. The Confession of Faith has been amended by the General Assembly of Australia, so as to allow of the marriage of a man with his deceased wife's sister, or of a woman with her deceased husband's brother.

The General Assembly of Australia (BB 1967 Min. 107(3)(a) made the following declaration:

5.2 Guiding Principles concerning the Remarriage of Divorced Persons.

The Assembly considers that it is undesirable and dangerous to the public welfare that divorce should be too easily obtained on any ground and is concerned that the divorce laws now applicable throughout Australia may in some cases lead to an easy dissolution of marriage that could have detrimental effects upon the stability of society. It does welcome the present law’s provision that a court shall explore any possibility of reconciliation which appears to exist before proceeding to grant a divorce.

The Assembly calls ministers to do all in their power as pastors and counsellors to preserve the enduring basis of marriage and to affirm the Gospel to this end, which calls all people to repentance and confession of sins, forgiveness, reconciliation and renewal of life. At the same time, the Assembly declares that no bar should or can be put in the way of ministers accepting any divorce recognised by Australian law as having effectively dissolved the marriage concerned.

Before a minister decides that he should remarry a person who has been divorced, it is important for him to consider, in addition to all other relevant circumstances, whether the person concerned is aware and repents of any part he or she may have played in the breakdown or unwarranted dissolution of the former marriage, is willing to accept and exercise forgiveness and is prepared to begin a new marriage trusting in the grace and power of God in Jesus Christ.

The General Assembly of Australia (BB 2019 Min. 89(3) adopted the following statement on Sex, Gender and Marriage and, at Min. 89(4) instructed the Code Committee to include the declaration in Constitution, Procedure and Practice

5.3 Sex, Gender and Marriage

1. Preamble

1.1. The Presbyterian Church of Australia seeks to be faithful to God by holding to the teaching of Scripture in faith and life. Our Subordinate Standard affirms the biblical teaching that God created us male and female (WCF 4.2) and that marriage is to be between one man and one woman (WCF 24.1). This statement presents the Church’s understanding of humanity in relation to sex, marriage and gender, based on the teaching of Scripture.

1.2. This statement uses the terminology of ‘sex’ and ‘gender’ while setting out a biblical understanding of their relationship.

1.3. In this statement the Church:
- expresses its joy in God our Creator and his good order of creation;
- expresses its grief over the effects of our Fall into sin in distorting God’s good order;
- expresses its faith in the Lord Jesus Christ our Redeemer and Saviour;
- expresses its hope in God’s promise of a new creation in which righteousness dwells; and
- reaffirms its commitment to serving Christ, his church and his world in the area of sex, gender and marriage.

2. We rejoice in God our Creator and his good order of creation

2.1. All people are made in God’s image (Gen 1:26-27; Declaratory Statement §4) and have a common dignity and worth. No one should be mocked, hated, or bullied.

2.2. God established a good order in his creation (WCF 5.1) in which humans were either male or female (Gen 1:27; 5:2; WCF 5.2), sharing a common humanity (Gen 2:23), but distinguished biologically through their capacity to conceive children together through sexual intercourse (Gen 2:24; 4:1). Men and women are equally created in God’s image and are to express their gender in complementary relationships, especially in a loving marriage (Gen 2:18; Deut 22:5; 1Co 11:14-15; Eph 5:22-33; Col 3:18-21; 1 Tim 2:12-14) and also within leadership in the household of God (1 Cor 14:29–35; 1 Tim 2:11–3:7; Titus 1:6–9).

2.3. In God’s good order, gender identity was determined by one’s biological sex (Gen. 1:27; Matt. 19:4).

2.4. Marriage is a union of a husband and a wife, to the exclusion of all others, voluntarily entered into for life (WCF 24.1), which for the good order of society is established by a public commitment. It is a sign of the love that exists between Christ and his church (Eph. 5:24–33). The purpose of marriage is lifelong love, intimacy and companionship, to provide the most favourable and stable environment to reproduce and nurture children, and to promote the health and stability of society (Gen 2:18; Ecc 4:9-11; Deut 6:1-7; Eph 6:1-4; Prov14:1; Pss 127 & 128; WCF 24.2). In the unity and partnership of marriage, a husband is to love his wife as his own body and as her head, and a wife is to submit to her husband (Gen 2:18; Eph 5:22–30). Marriage is the only proper setting for sexual intercourse and is the divinely ordained environment for the raising and nurturing of children.

2.5. Married couples are commanded by God to be faithful. All sexual activity outside of marriage is prohibited (Ex 20:14; 22:19; Lev 19:29; Deut 5:18; 22:13-21; 1Co 6:9-10; Heb 13:4; Rev. 21:8; 22:15), as is abuse and violence within marriage (1 Pet 3:7). Divorce is prohibited, except on proper grounds (Mal 2:15; Mt 19:4-8; Mk 10:6-9; 1Co 7:10-14; WCF 24.5-6).

3. We mourn the effects of the Fall and our own sin as they distort God’s good order
   3.1. The fall of Adam rendered all humanity guilty and subject to God’s eternal punishment (Rom 5:12-19). It corrupted us and the created order. ‘Our first parents ... fell from their original righteousness and communion with God, and so became dead in sin, and wholly defiled in all the faculties and parts of soul and body’, and ‘the same death in sin and corrupted nature’ was ‘conveyed to all their posterity’ (WCF 6.1-3). As a consequence, all humans turn away from God, refuse to obey him, and worship created things instead (Rom 1:25) — including marriage, sexual experiences, sexuality and gender. All humans face struggle, distress and distortion in our experiences of gender and sexuality and marriage.

   3.2. From the Fall, human sin and God’s curse have disordered and frustrated God’s good creation pattern (Gen 3:14-19; Rom 8:19-21). Humans have sought to make sense of their world and establish their identities apart from God (Prov 1:7; 12:23; Rom 1:21-29; 7:5,14-18; Eph 4:22). Relationships between husband and wife are spoiled (Gen 3:7,12,16; 4:19,23); women are often mistreated and abused (Ge 34:7-31; Deut 22:28–29; Jdg 19:22-20:7; 2Sa 13:1-32; Zec 14:2; 1 Pet 3:7); men and women are tempted to, and participate in, sexual immorality (Ge 39:6-12; 2Sa 11:2-5; Mt 5:27-28; 1 Pe 4:3; 2 Pe 2:14-18) including homosexual sex (Lev 18:22; 20:13; Rom 1:18-32; 1 Cor 6:9-10; 1 Tim 1:9-10); people transgress the boundaries of their sex (Deut 22:5; 1 Cor 6:9; 1 Cor 11:4-5, 13-15).

   3.3. One consequence of the Fall is that some people are born with conditions in which their sex organs are not easily characterised as either male or female, or their sex organs are not consistent with their sex chromosomes (sometimes called intersex conditions or disorders of sex development). These are often physically uncomfortable and emotionally distressing conditions.

   3.4. A further consequence of the Fall is that some people experience their gender to be different to their sex (sometimes called gender identity disorder or gender dysphoria). This is often a very distressing and confusing experience.

   3.5. People who suffer from these conditions and experiences are equally made in God’s image and share in the common dignity and worth of all human beings. However, these conditions do not constitute a third sex or gender, nor do they contradict the truth that in his originally good creation, God has established a binary sexual order for human beings. Binary biological sex remains the basis on which we understand these experiences.

3.6. All aspects of sexual life and gender are subject to temptations to turn from God’s good order and to break his commands. Temptation is not, in itself, sin; though for all fallen humans it appeals to sinful desires which are affected by our sinfulness and for which we are culpable. As a consequence, we are all prone to living out these sinful desires in thought, word and deed (Jam 1:13-15). Marital unfaithfulness through violence, desertion or sexual unfaithfulness is sin, as are all forms of sexual immorality.

3.7. Modern Western culture has developed in a framework in which God is not relevant to understanding the world or shaping ethics. This has promoted a culture which views each person as free to determine their own identity and moral framework; and assumes that diversity, including gender and sexual diversity, is a good in itself; and that pleasure and comfort are primary. This culture does not acknowledge the existence of God’s good creational order and often celebrates changes which transgress that order. It also presents temptations through sexualised advertising, pornography and social pressures in friendships and in employment and educational contexts.

3.8. The church, in seeking to teach and apply the biblical view of sex, gender and marriage has often failed to acknowledge our own sin and has caused undue hurt. We have failed to adequately understand the struggles of others; and, in doing so, have prevented the gospel being heard by those who, like us, are in desperate need of salvation and secure identity in Christ. As a church we are accountable to the Lord Jesus for our treatment of others, especially those who are young in the faith (Matt 18:6; 1 Pet 4:17).

4. We look to Christ for redemption, proclaim him as Lord and Saviour and seek to live for him in ways consistent with God’s good order

4.1. In his incarnation, God the Son took on human nature to redeem people from sin, to heal them from corruption and reconcile them to God, and to restore God’s good order to creation. He achieved this by his life, death, resurrection and ascension (Jn 3:16-21; Eph 1:3-10; 1 Pet 1:1-9; WCF 8).

4.2. The gospel, which proclaims Christ as the Saviour for all who trust him, is offered to all people (Isa 57:19; Acts 2:39; Rom 1:5; 3:24; 1 Tim 2:4). Everyone who comes to Christ is welcomed by him and included in his salvation (John 6:37). In Christ, his people find their true humanity and a new identity, irrespective of their gender, sexuality, marital status, family background, social status or ethnicity. They are restored to the image of God in Christ and united with each other in him (Rom 10:12; 1Co 12:13; Gal 2:20; Eph 2:10, 15; 4:22-24; Col 3:10-11). Christ is the answer to the underlying problems for all people — including those facing sexual temptation, the consequences of sexual sin, broken and difficult marriages, loneliness, shame, and gender confusion.

4.3. By the gift of the Holy Spirit those in Christ are restored to God and are able to live for him (Rom 8:3-9; WCF 10.1, 13.1).

4.4. God does not promise to heal all broken bodies or human relationships nor to end temptation, nor remove homosexual attraction, gender confusion or other burdens in this life. He promises that, because we are his chosen, redeemed and sanctified children, his grace will be sufficient in all our trials (2 Cor. 12:9). He also promises that on the return of Christ all his people will receive resurrected and restored bodies and enjoy full communion with him in a world of righteousness freed from curse and frustration (Rom 8:20-24; 2 Pet 3:13; Rev. 21:1-5).

4.5. Christ calls all people, though lost in sin, to come to him to be reconciled to God and to discover their true humanity in his service. Sinners come to God as he works by his Spirit to lead them to love him, and he reorders their desires and behaviour to conform to Christ. By the Spirit, believers are enabled to grieve for and hate their sins and to commit and strive to live as God commands. All believers struggle with sin and must constantly turn to Christ and put to death the sinful nature with its particular sins.

4.6. An unmarried person who is a follower of Jesus Christ is called to live faithfully for him in chastity. Singleness is a proper and honourable Christian calling, since it was the calling of the Lord Jesus himself (Matt 19:12; 1 Cor. 7:32–35; 1 Tim 5:5).

4.7. Married couples who follow Jesus Christ are called to live together faithfully as husband and wife, loving and serving one another. Husbands are to love their wives as Christ loved the church, and wives are to submit to their husbands (Col. 3:18–19; Eph. 5:22–33; Tit 2:4-5; 1 Pet 3:1-7). Parents are to love their children and raise them in the training and instruction of the Lord (Gen 18:19; Deut 6:7; Col 3:21; Eph 6:4). Children are to honour and obey their parents (Ex 20:12; Deut 5:16; Pr 6:20; Col 3:20; Eph 6:1-2).
4.8. An intersex person who is a follower of Jesus Christ should embrace their biological sex insofar as it may be known. Surgical treatment to enable this may be appropriate, though it is not morally necessary.

4.9. A person who experiences gender dysphoria and who is a follower of Jesus Christ should accept their body as inherent to their personhood, given to them by God, and seek to reconcile their understanding and presentation of their gender according to this fundamental truth. Learning to live consistently with this may be an on-going and difficult process, yet, as with all Christians, their union with Christ through his Spirit will lead them to grow in grace.

4.10. Faithful proclamation of the gospel requires the church to give a clear public witness in word and action to the righteousness of God, the nature and consequences of human sin, including its impact on the curse and frustration of the fallen creation, and God’s free offer of grace in the Lord Jesus (Jn 16:8; Acts 2:23, 17:16-17, 30-31; Rom 1:18-3:20). The church presents God’s good order and his moral law to the wider society, in part for the sake of the common good which is promoted by a recognition of the moral law. The church is not called to provide moral discipline for society (1 Cor 5:9–10), nor to seek moral reformation of society apart from gospel ministry. The priority of its mission is to proclaim Christ and to call people to salvation in him.

5. We live in eager expectation of God’s new creation

5.1. The Lord has promised at his return a new creation where righteousness will dwell, and his people will enjoy glorious freedom in his presence, and he will wipe away all their tears (Rom 8:21; 2 Pet 3:13; Rev. 21:1-5; WCF 33.2). So, we live in hope, longing for and praying for the day when we shall be fully conformed to Christ and the created order will be gloriously transformed, healed of all disorder and corruption. In the presence of the Triune God, God’s people will be given the fullness of their new identity in Christ (1 Cor 13:12; 1 John 3:2; Rev. 22:4-5).

5.2. In the new creation, marriage and sexuality will reach their fulfillment in the marriage of Christ the lamb to his people (Rev. 19:7; 21:2). Jesus declares there will be no marriage at the resurrection, which means that marriage is temporal, and not an ‘ultimate’ relationship for humanity, but one that points to this ultimate fulfillment (Matt 22:30). We do not know the details of how bodies will be transformed and how that will reflect sex or intersex conditions. The bodies of God’s people will be glorified and made to be like Christ (1 Cor. 15:35–53; Phil 3:20-21; 1 Jn 3:2).
Only then will God’s people be freed from temptation and able to love him perfectly and freely.

We commit ourselves to serving Christ, his church and his world in the area of sex, marriage and gender

6.1. As the Church addresses issues of sex, gender and marriage in its teaching and pastoral ministry should teach and act in consistency with the understanding set out in this statement.

6.2. It is important to differentiate between cultural trends and movements, and the situation of individuals. The Church should identify for its members, and for the society, false views about marriage, sex and gender. It should do so in a way that is gracious, compassionate and engaging, and which offers life lived for Christ as a genuine alternative. It should treat those who are influenced by these movements as victims in need of compassion and, like all people, sinners in need of repentance. The Church should remain sensitive to congregation members who may silently struggle with gender or sexuality issues.

6.3. The deeply personal nature of sex, gender and marriage makes teaching about these areas, and the provision of pastoral care, particularly complex. We should seek to be informed as well as possible, to welcome advice from those with relevant personal and professional experience and constantly to seek wisdom from the Lord.

6.4. Good pastoral care will involve determining with those concerned, in light of the teaching of Scripture, how they can live faithfully in Christ. It will involve supporting them in this and, in love, holding them accountable for their actions. It may involve helping them access the services of appropriate professionals who should share a view of sex, gender and marriage consistent with this statement.

6.5. We should seek to build churches in which people of all ages grow together in the gospel, and which share the gospel of God’s love in Christ. Our churches should aim to reinforce, enrich and model identity in Christ in contrast to the idolatrous identities of the world. Churches should seek to model faithfulness in marriage and singleness, and to support single people, couples moving toward marriage and married couples to live godly lives and to serve Christ together. The Church should be a community in which people can be honest about their temptations and pain and receive compassionate support from fellow believers as they seek to live faithfully.

6.6. The Church should teach that God opposes abuse and violence in marriage and in the family. He particularly warns husbands to be considerate to their wives and treat them with respect (Eph 5:28–
Acts of domestic violence and abuse are heinous sins. In providing pastoral care, church leaders should be alert for signs of domestic and family violence, and teaching in churches should address these issues. Domestic violence may be a valid ground for divorce, along with adultery and desertion (WCF 24:6).

6.7. Biological or natal sex is the relevant basis on which the church makes decisions about qualifications for marriage, church membership and church office.

6.8. The Church will not ordain any person who is involved in a sexual relationship outside of a marriage between a man and a woman. No church officer nor anyone in a position of leadership or responsibility within the Church should be involved in such a relationship.

6.9. All schools, training colleges, aged care facilities, charitable organisations, and other ministries and institutions operated by, in connection with, or under the authority or control of the Church are to operate in a manner, and for purposes, consistent with the understanding of sex, gender and marriage set out in this statement. Church property is only to be used in a manner and for purposes consistent with that understanding.

(iii) Do you own and accept the purity of worship as practised in this Church?
(iv) Do you own the Presbyterian form of government to be founded on the Word of God and agreeable thereto; and do you promise that through the grace of God, you will firmly and constantly adhere to, and to the utmost of your power, in your station, assert, maintain and defend the same?

Notes
On Spiritual Freedom

Whereas recent decisions affecting the relations of the administration and discipline of the Church to the Civil Courts have been given by the Civil Courts in the Commonwealth of Australia:

And whereas the Presbyterian Church of Australia is directly interested in such decisions:

It seems good and necessary to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Australia to make a Declaration on this matter, lest the Church be assumed to acquiesce in any infringement of the Crown Rights of Christ within His own Church, as declared in the Standards of the Church, or in any infringement of the essential principles of Presbyterianism, as held by Presbyterian Churches throughout the world.

Accordingly the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Australia hereby declares as follows:

1. That the General Assembly holds, in accordance with the Word of God and the Westminster Confession of Faith as accepted by this Church:

   (a) That God has ordained Civil Magistrates to be, under Him, over the people, for His own glory and the public good, and the Church has ever been instant in teaching the people to pray for the sovereign of the realm, and all who under him administer the government, to honour their persons, to obey their lawful commands, and to be subject to their authority for conscience' sake.

   (b) That the Lord Jesus has instituted His Church in the world as a society of His believing people, to which He has promised His own presence and Spirit to guide and rule the Church to the glory of His holy name and the advancement of His kingdom upon earth; and this Church of the Lord Jesus is distinct from the kingdoms of this world, both in its origin and its nature, and not subject to them in spiritual affairs.
(c) That the Lord Jesus, as King and Head of His Church, has therein appointed a government and jurisdiction, in the hands of Church Officers, distinct from the Civil Magistrate. With this distinct jurisdiction, which is directly from Christ, the only King and Head of His Church, the Civil Magistrate has no lawful right to interfere or to assume to himself any authoritative control over the same. This jurisdiction comprehends the determining, interpreting, changing, adding to and modifying its constitution and laws, its subordinate standards and Church formulas; the preaching of the Word; the administration of the Sacraments; the exercise of ecclesiastical discipline, including the admission and exclusion of members, and the ordination, induction, and suspension, or deposition of office-bearers; and generally all matters touching the doctrine, worship, discipline and government of the Church.

(d) That in all matters coming within the jurisdiction of the Church, as defined above, office-bearers and members of the Church are bound to abide by the decision of the Church Courts, and recourse to Civil Courts against any decision of the Church in these matters, or against the execution thereof, is excluded.

2. That Christ, having established His Church and appointed a distinct government and jurisdiction therein, the maintenance of the spiritual freedom of the Church specially concerns His honour and dignity, as the Church's only Head and Ruler.

3. That, while the Church claims to be in the spiritual sphere under no authority other than that of Christ, whose mind and will it is bound earnestly to seek to know and obediently to follow, it makes no claim to infallibility of interpretation as to the mind and will of Christ in any particular case, any more than the Civil Magistrate claims to be infallible in his own sphere; yet such absence of infallibility in either case does not warrant the intrusion of the Church into the sphere of the Civil Magistrate or of the Civil Magistrate into the sphere of the Church.

On the Nobile Officium of the General Assembly

Whereas the Presbyterian Church of Australia, in accordance with the Word of God and the Westminster Confession of Faith, as accepted by this Church, recognises "no other Head of the Church but the Lord Jesus Christ"; and whereas, by the Articles of Agreement contained in the Deed of Union of the Presbyterian Church of Australia, it is, among other things, provided that the General Assembly of the said Church shall have functions - legislative, administrative and judicial supreme with regard to the doctrine, worship and discipline of the Church; and whereas questions have arisen as to the nature and extent of such functions and as to their exercise:

Now, therefore, it is hereby declared:

1. That the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Australia, as the supreme legislative, administrative, and judicial Court of the Church in those matters which have been or may hereafter be assigned to its jurisdiction, claims and possesses the extraordinary (equitable) jurisdiction inherent in every supreme governing authority, commonly known as the Nobile Officium.

2. That, while the limits of this inherent right cannot be drawn beforehand, as from its nature it must be exercised at the dictates of conscience, illuminated by the influence and the spirit of the Head of the Church, its exercise would be mainly in the direction of validating or correcting errors of procedure in the lower Courts of the Church; dealing with and disposing of any matters not specifically provided for in the laws or rules made by the Church; providing remedies for wrongs to individual members of the Church for the remedying of which there is no provision; restraining the application of any rule or law which would press with undue severity upon any member of the Church; and redressing any wrong to the Church for which no statutory or other provision had been made.

3. That this inherent power shall be exercised by the General Assembly alone, in those matters which belong to its jurisdiction.

4. That nothing in the foregoing shall interfere with State Assemblies in the exercise of the Nobile Officium in matters in which they are supreme.

Rules to Give Effect to the Declaration on the Spiritual Freedom of the Church

1. That the following Rules and all other Rules and any forms heretofore or hereafter to be made or prescribed by the General Assembly shall regulate and guide the several Courts and Judicatories, Congregations, Members and Office-bearers of the Church, in their respective proceedings; but such Rules and forms are not to be regarded as laws which can in no instance be added to or deviated from, but as indications of what is considered by the Church to be the ordinary method of procedure in the cases and under the circumstances to which the Rules and forms refer, and are not to be held as limiting or prejudicing the Nobile Officium of the General Assembly, or of any State Assembly, in dealing with any matter in which it is the supreme authority of the Church.

2. That every office-bearer, member, and adherent of the Church is subject to the Church in the exercise of its functions relating to doctrine, worship, and discipline, and shall be deemed to have agreed to submit to every decision of the Court of the Church which has proper cognisance of the matter in question – whether such decision shall involve any question as to the meaning or effect of the Constitution, or of any Rules or Regulations of the Church, or as to the jurisdiction of the said Court to deal with the matter in question or otherwise, and every such decision shall be valid and final, unless upon an appeal to a Higher Court of the Church it shall be reversed or varied by such Higher Court.

3. That any office-bearer, member or adherent of the Church who shall bring any action or suit against any Court of the Church, or any member of any such Court, to compel any act to be done or in respect of, or to set aside or restrain, or have declared null and void, any act done or proposed to be done or decision come to by such Court, in the exercise of its functions relating to doctrine, worship or discipline, shall be guilty of contumacy, and if he shall be a Minister or Elder, shall also be guilty of a breach of his ordination vow.

4. That an act of contumacy may be dealt with summarily by the Court against the authority of which the offence has been committed and punished at the discretion of the Court.

5. That nothing in these Rules shall apply to any action brought to determine the civil effects of the decisions and sentences of the Church, nor shall anyone be debarred by these Rules from raising an action for civil damages for an alleged infringement of his civil rights provided that any person who is or shall be entitled to hold or occupy any property, or to receive any emolument, by virtue of a spiritual office or position in the Church, shall, on ceasing to hold, or on being removed from such office or position by any Court of the Church, cease to be entitled to hold or occupy such property or receive such emolument.
6. That the General Assembly, and every State Assembly, has original jurisdiction in every matter and case of discipline, and may either remit the matter or case to an inferior Court, or deal with and dispose of it by the direct exercise of its own authority, subject to the provisions in the Rules of Procedure in regard to Discipline.

7. That nothing in these Rules, or in the Rules as to Procedure in regard to Discipline, shall be deemed to take away the right of State Assemblies and inferior Courts to exercise their administrative functions, as these are secured by the Articles of Agreement.

The Declaration on the Nobile Officium and associated rules were remitted to presbyteries and State Assemblies in 1910, modified in 1912 and amended again in 1914

PART 1 - GENERAL PRINCIPLES AND RULES

Jurisdiction 1.01 The General Assembly of Australia (herein called "the General Assembly") has authority pursuant to Article 2.1 of the Articles of Agreement to enact rules regarding the exercise of discipline within the Church. This Code of Discipline is an enactment of the General Assembly pursuant to Article 2.1. The rules and regulations of State Assemblies are displaced by this code of discipline only to the extent necessary to give effect to these Rules.

Ends of discipline 1.02 Discipline is exercised by those appointed to rule in the Church for the glory of God, the purity of the Church and the spiritual good of the offender. Discipline is to be administered in a spirit of faithfulness, love and tenderness.
Offences 1.03 Alleged behaviour which constitutes an offence that is subject to the staged processes of this Code of Discipline is anything in the doctrines or practices of a member of the Church which is contrary to:

(a) the Word of God as the supreme standard of the Church as understood in accordance with the Westminster Confession of Faith as the subordinate standard of the Church read in the light of the declaratory statement as provided for in Clause II of the Basis of Union, or

(b) an obligation imposed on a minister or member of the Church by a law of the Church.

Civil courts 1.04 In cases of discipline Church Courts form their own judgements independently of proceedings in other courts but the judgement of a civil court may be taken into consideration.

Time limit 1.05 No accusation shall be received or proceeded with in respect of any offence alleged to have been committed more than five years before the date of the accusation, unless it relates to sexual abuse or abuse of authority.

When an allegation is made under the Code of Discipline, it must be investigated and pursued thoroughly, responsibly and as quickly as the case might allow so that no delay in process or judgement will prejudice either the accuser or the accused.

Private hearing 1.06 All matters relating to discipline are heard in private unless the Court determine otherwise.

Decision of Church Courts 1.07 In matters of discipline ministers and members of the church must abide by the decision of the Church Courts and recourse to a civil court against:

(a) any such decision, or

(b) the execution thereof, or
(c) any individual member of the Court acting as such, is excluded.

Situation not fully provided for 1.08 If a situation occurs for which these Rules do not make full provision a Court has a discretionary power in the conduct of the case but care must be taken that substantial justice is done to the accused, and full opportunity allowed for the accused to vindicate innocence or extenuate guilt.

Procedure to be explained 1.09 It is the duty of Sessions and Presbyteries to explain the procedures to parties and, if parties desire to carry the case to a higher Court, to show them how they may do so.

Definition of Member 1.10 Except where the context otherwise requires, in these Rules the expression "member of the Church" shall mean both communicant and adherent and includes a member who holds office as elder, manager or deacon.

Transitional 1.11 Any case which has been commenced prior to the enactment of these Rules shall be dealt with until it is finally concluded in accordance with the rules in force prior to these Rules unless all parties agree to proceed in accordance with these Rules.

Administrative Procedures 1.12 Nothing in these rules is intended to apply to administrative processes provided for in the rules and regulations of the State churches which do not involve any alleged conduct in respect of a member of the church of the kind referred to in Rule 1.03. Unless alleged conduct of the kind referred to in Rule 1.03 is a materially contributing reason giving rise to the exercise of power, the State churches may establish (by way of example) rules:

(a) requiring the roll of communicant members to be revised, including authorising sessions to remove from a communicant roll persons who, by their habitual absence from attendance at communion and/or other worship in the congregation, should not continue to be included as communicant members of the Church,

(b) relating to the termination of office of an elder where the member’s usefulness as an elder has been seriously impaired such as due to persistent absence from meetings not satisfactorily explained, or incapacity whether physical or mental,

(c) permitting a presbytery to deal with the incapacity of a minister whether physical or mental by dissolving the pastoral tie,

(d) permitting a presbytery to deal with a congregation in an unsatisfactory state by:
   (i) dissolving the pastoral tie, and/or
   (ii) dissolving the session and/or the committee of management.

Protection of Children 1.13 (a) This Rule relates to practices and procedures which may be adopted by a State Assembly from time to time to give effect to secular legal, including statutory, obligations that apply to State churches (including church courts, church organisations, committees and office-bearers within State churches) relating to the protection of children. Such practices and procedures are referred to in this Rule as child protection policies. State churches initiate, develop and amend child protection policies under their State rules which must accord with any mandatory specific requirements of secular State and federal law applicable in their State. It is an object which is in accord with the supreme powers of the national federal Church under Article 2.1(c) that State churches achieve as much uniformity between their child protection policies as the secular laws applying in a particular jurisdiction permit.

(b) In child protection policies, the primary purpose is the protection of children rather than the application of discipline to the alleged offender. Such policies are however congruent with the ends of discipline expressed in Rule 1.02: putting in place proper measures to protect children and to fore-stall an alleged offender against his or her alleged propensity is for the glory of God, the purity of the Church and the spiritual good of the alleged offender.

(c) Child protection policies operate in relation to members of the Church and those who are not members of the Church but who attend or otherwise participate in or interact with the life and activities of the Church. Discipline under this Code of Discipline applies only to those who are members of the Church (communicants or adherents) including office-bearers of the Church. Accordingly, in relation to those who are not members of the Church, child protection policies will operate apart from this Code of Discipline.

(d) Where a child protection policy operates in relation to alleged conduct or activity of a member of the Church that by the description of the alleged conduct or activity comes within Rule 1.03, the provisions of this Code of Discipline must be followed in accord with the following paragraphs of this Rule (which incorporate reference to child protection policies).

(e) If in accordance with the child protection policies a member of the Church willingly and without coercion or duress enters into an arrangement, such as a behavioural agreement or a similar covenant, which is intended to give effect to the purposes of the child protection policies, there is no necessity for any (or any further) steps under the Code of Discipline to be taken and in particular Rules 3.01 to 3.05 will have been satisfied.

(f) If a member of the Church in respect of whom child protection policies are invoked:
   (i) either disputes the application of those policies or alleges that those policies were not implemented with procedural fairness, and
   (ii) denies any conduct or activity which if proven comes within Rule 1.03, then that member is entitled to require, by written notice given to the relevant court at the time of the denial in (ii) that procedures be commenced in the relevant court of the Church under this Code of Discipline.

(g) Rule 1.04 does not apply to procedures commenced in accordance with paragraph (f). As with any process under this Code of Discipline, procedures commenced in accordance with paragraph (f) must, in accordance with applicable secular State and federal law, not prejudice investigation and prosecution procedures under State law.

(h) Procedures commenced in accordance with paragraph (f) must observe any mandatory specific requirements of secular State and federal law even if the alleged offence is not proven or guilt is not established.

(i) If the alleged offence is confessed at any point in the procedures under this Code of Discipline, or is proven, then any mandatory specific requirements of secular State and federal law must be observed in the imposition of a consequence or the imposition of a censure and the range of available consequences includes entry into an arrangement, such as a behavioural agreement or a similar covenant, which is intended to give
(j) If the alleged offence is not proven or the alleged offender is found not guilty, the court may still determine, despite anything in Parts 4 to 9, that it is appropriate in accordance with the child protection policies to require the alleged offender to enter into or to continue in (in existing or in amended form) an arrangement, such as a behavioural agreement or a similar covenant, which is intended to give effect to the purposes of the child protection policies and to put in place a procedure for periodic review by the court of such an arrangement. Such review is to take into account the state of any investigation or other action by secular State authorities and the conduct of the alleged offender since the determination of the alleged offence or since the last review, and is to include a fresh assessment by the court of any continuing risk relating to children from the alleged offender. Such review is not a procedure under this Code of Discipline (and thus is a decision of the court that is subject to the usual appeal processes of the State church) unless a new allegation of conduct or activity which if proven comes within Rule 1.03 is raised in respect of or in the course of the review.

(k) A session or other authority of the Church to whom an application for membership of the Church is made may in accordance with child protection policies and as a pre-requisite for and condition of granting membership put, or leave, in place (in existing or in amended form) an arrangement, such as a behavioural agreement or a similar covenant, which is intended to give effect to the purposes of the child protection policies and to put in place a procedure for periodic review by the court of such an arrangement. Such review is to take into account the state of any investigation or other action by secular State authorities and the conduct of the alleged offender since the entry into membership or since the last review. The session or other authority is required to exercise procedural fairness in exercising its power of admission to membership under this paragraph, but there are no rights under the Code of Discipline for the person seeking admission to membership in respect of the decision on admission to membership (refer paragraph (c)).

PART 2 - COURTS OF DISCIPLINE

Rules to be observed 2.01 In cases of discipline the various Courts of the Church shall conduct the business before them in accordance with these Rules and in harmony with the Articles of Agreement.

Standing orders 2.02 General rules or standing orders of the State Assembly shall apply when a case is before a Session, Presbytery or State Assembly to the extent that such rules or standing orders are not inconsistent with these Rules.

Church Courts Concerned 2.03 Parties involved in an offence or allegation are subject to the Court ordinarily having jurisdiction over such alleged offender.

Jurisdiction 2.04 A court of the Church in considering the report of a committee dealing with a matter of discipline may remit the report to the committee for further con-Sideration and report but must, in all matters, following the procedures of the Code of Discipline.

PRESBYTERY

Presbytery Jurisdiction

2.10 (1) A Presbytery has jurisdiction over its own ministerial members and over licentiates and ministers without charge whose certificates of status it holds or is entitled to hold.

Transfer of Presbytery

2.10 (2) If it is more convenient by reason of residence or the place where the alleged offence is said to have been committed the Presbytery having jurisdiction may, without considering the case, remit the whole matter to such Presbytery as it deems convenient to hear and determine the matter, if such Presbytery consents so to do. In such a case and in respect of the alleged offence the jurisdiction shall pass to and be exercised by such Presbytery.

Minister

2.11 A minister whose demission or resignation has been accepted by a Presbytery remains under the jurisdiction of that Presbytery until the minister has been transferred to another Presbytery.

Licentiate

2.12 A licentiate is under the jurisdiction of the Presbytery which granted the license until the licentiate is regularly transferred to another Presbytery.

Cases from Session

2.13 The exercise of discipline of a Presbytery over members of the Church is, in ordinary practice, limited to cases brought before it from Sessions by reference or appeal, when the usual procedure in references and appeals is followed.

Investigation by Committee; judgement by Court

2.20 A presbytery may remit a case of discipline to a committee for investigation and report to a future meeting of the presbytery but the judgement on the matter must be that of the presbytery.

Assessors

2.21 The Presbytery, after:
(a) making a preliminary inquiry, and
(b) resolving to proceed further with the case may request the assistance of assessors in accordance with Articles of Agreement 13. Such assessor shall exercise the rights of members of the Presbytery for the time being, but without power of moving or seconding a motion or voting upon any motion moved.

Reference to Higher Court

2.22 After serving a charge on an accused party and taking the necessary evidence the Presbytery may, before coming to a judicial finding, refer the whole case to the higher Court for verdict and consequent action.

STATE ASSEMBLY

Jurisdiction, General

2.23 A State Assembly has jurisdiction co-extensive with its bounds, subject to the laws of the Church.

Original Jurisdiction

2.24 A State Assembly has original jurisdiction in every case of discipline, and may either remit the case to a lower Court, or, if the matter seems urgent, deal with it by the direct exercise of its own authority.

Practice

2.25 In ordinary practice a State Assembly exercises its power of discipline only in cases brought before it from Presbyteries by reference or appeal.

Investigation by Committee;

2.26 A State Assembly may remit a case of discipline to a committee for investigation and report to a fu-judgement by Court

Missionary 2.27 In the case of a foreign missionary who is a minister but who is not a member of a Presbytery within the State, or who is a licentiate, the State Assembly shall remit the case to the Presbytery having jurisdiction. In the case of a foreign missionary who is neither a minister nor licentiate, the State Assembly shall remit the case to the Presbytery from which the missionary originally offered for missionary service.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Jurisdiction, General Assembly 2.28 The jurisdiction of the General Assembly is co-extensive with the Church.

Original Jurisdiction 2.29 The General Assembly has original jurisdiction in every case of discipline and may either remit the case to a lower Court or, if the matter seems urgent, deal with it and dispose of it by the direct exercise of its own authority.

Investigation by Committee; judgement by Court 2.30 The General Assembly may remit a case of discipline to a committee for investigation and report to a future meeting of the Assembly but the judgement on the matter must be that of the Assembly.

Practice of G.A. 2.31 In ordinary practice the General Assembly exercises its powers of discipline only in cases brought before it from State Assemblies by reference or appeal.

Nobile Officium 2.32 The General Assembly, as the supreme judicial Court of the Church in those matters which have been or may hereafter be assigned to its jurisdiction, claims and possesses the extraordinary (equitable) jurisdiction inherent in every supreme governing authority, commonly known as the nobile officium.
PART 3 - PRELIMINARY STEPS

Private wrong

3.01 In a case of alleged private wrong, the accuser should first follow the course of private conversation with the alleged offender prescribed by our Lord in Matthew Chapter 18 verses 15-17 except where the allegation relates to abuse including abuse of authority. Where a private conversation has not been held, the Court holding jurisdiction over the alleged offender may, upon being approached by the complainant, appoint one or more persons to facilitate that conversation if possible.

Abuse of authority

3.02 However, it would be inconsistent with Scripture that activity seen to be required by it should create or heighten the risk of further trauma or suffering to one or more individuals. Therefore, in cases of alleged abuse including abuse of authority, the occurrence, timing and manner of any private conversation in accordance with Matthew 18:15-17 (see also Proverbs 25:9-12 and Luke 6:31-37) shall be determined by the Court to whom the complaint has been brought and that Court shall act so as not to create or unreasonably heighten the risk of further trauma or suffering to the parties from such private conversation.

Christian Mediation

3.03 A Court may appoint one or more of its members to confer in private with both parties with a view to disposing of the case through Christian mediation. Equally, a Court may engage competent Christian mediators beyond its own membership to effect such mediation.

Private dealing

3.04 Ordinarily a matter appearing to call for the exercise of discipline shall not be proceeded with formally until the Court, or a committee appointed by the Court, has in private conferred in a loving way with the alleged offender with a view to avoiding the necessity of formal process if possible. The result of this conference shall be reported to the Court in general terms bearing in mind the nature and purpose of the conference and that report shall be confidential to the Court and be kept in a record apart.

Prosecuting Charges 3.05 A Court cannot undertake a preliminary enquiry or enter upon a judicial process against an alleged offender unless:
(a) some person or persons undertake to make and maintain the charge, or
(b) the Court itself find it necessary for the ends of discipline to investigate the alleged offence.

Allegations 3.06 Since an offence alleged against a minister or licentiate or other member of the Church, even though groundless, is not easily extinguished, a Presbytery shall consider carefully at whose instance and by whose information and complaint it comes before them. The Presbytery shall not begin process unless:
(a) some reliable person, either by a signed statement or orally and in presence of the Presbytery, makes a complaint with some account of its probability, and undertakes, by sufficient evidence, to prove such complaint, or
(b) there is public rumour of an offence ("fama clamosa") so serious that the Presbytery, for its own vindication and the purity of the Church, resolves that it is necessary to begin proceedings without an accuser.

Notice of Charge 3.07 Anyone bringing an accusation before a Court must:
(a) give seven days notice thereof in writing to the person charged, either personally or to the person's last known address by confirmed delivery letter, and
(b) submit the charge to the Court in writing with a statement of the grounds on which the accuser makes it.

Light or malicious Charges 3.08 A member of the Church bringing a charge against a fellow-member lightly or maliciously is guilty of a serious offence, and is liable to censure.

Fama clamosa 3.09 On the basis of a public rumour of an offence a Court by itself or a Committee appointed by the Court may proceed to confer privately with the alleged offender and inquire into the nature of the alleged offence and the evidence available with such conference and the report thereof being confidential to the Court and being kept in a record apart.

Action on report 3.10 If:
   (a) the complaint, accusation or public rumour appears to be ill-founded, or
   (b) the offence alleged in any complaint, accusation or public rumour is not flagrant and the accused acknowledges the error and submits to such admonition as the Court may deem needful, no further proceedings are taken.

Institution of inquiry 3.11 If the Court decides that the matter complained of (whether under Rule 3.06(a) or Rule 3.06(b)) ought to be more fully inquired into it shall institute a preliminary inquiry and thereafter determine whether a formal process should be entered upon or permitted. If, after such preliminary inquiry, it decides for a formal process the case should be proceeded with as speedily as practicable. Proceedings of the Court and the decision made by it shall be confidential to the Court and be kept in a record apart.

Suspension 3.12 If an allegation is made against a person who holds office in the Church, including a minister of a parish, which concerns inappropriate behaviour with young people, including child molestation, then having regard to the need to protect children the Court may at any time suspend the accused person from office even though the Court has not at the time resolved to proceed, or been required under Rule 1.13(f) to proceed, to judicial process as referred to in Part 5. In the case of any such suspension the provisions of Rule 5.01(a) shall apply as though the suspension had occurred after the decision to proceed by judicial process. If the Court subsequently resolves to proceed, or has been required under Rule 1.13(f) to proceed, by judicial process it may either continue or discontinue the suspension and may in any event discontinue the suspension at any time.

3.12A If an allegation is made against a member (office bearer, other communicant or adherent) of the Church, which concerns inappropriate behaviour with young people (which term includes a child or children as defined in legislation relating to child protection that has force of secular law in the relevant State), including but not limited to child molestation, then having regard to the need to protect children the Court may at any time suspend the accused person from all or some privileges or rights of membership, or place conditions on the enjoyment or exercise of such privileges or rights of membership, including conditions concerning attendance at services and/or other activities of the Church or of a congregation or of a Church organisation, even though the Court has not at the time resolved to proceed, or been required under Rule 1.13(f) to proceed, to judicial process as referred to in Part 5. If the Court subsequently resolves to proceed, or has been required under Rule 1.13(f) to proceed, by judicial process it may either continue or discontinue the suspension and may in any event discontinue the suspension at any time with or without conditions. Such suspension is not governed by and operates independently of and in addition to any suspension under Rule 3.12 and/or Rule 5.01(a).

(a) the alleged offender is prepared to confess and express contrition for the alleged offence or major portion thereof, and
(b) the offence calls for no more than admonition or rebuke the Court, if it approves of such report, may proceed at once or may cite the alleged offender to appear at another meeting and, on such confession, admonish or rebuke the offender.

Serious cases 4.07 If:
(a) the committee reports that the charge is too serious to be dealt with in the manner provided for in the preceding Rule, and
(b) the Court approves of the report, steps are then taken to proceed by judicial process.

Charges frivolous or unsupported 4.08 If the alleged offence is found to be of a frivolous nature or unsupported by trustworthy evidence the case shall be discharged by the Court and the alleged offender be so informed. The party or parties making the charge are liable for such costs as the court may determine.

Access to Documents 4.09 In the preliminary inquiry, subject to Rules 4.04, 4.10 and 4.11:
(a) the Court and any committee may inform itself of the matter being inquired into in such ways as it thinks fit and may inspect such documents as it thinks fit,
(b) the alleged offender does not have a right to be told what documents or information the Court or committee has gathered or has been given or has heard or has inspected, and
(c) the alleged offender has no right to seek access to such information or documents.

Evidence at inquiry 4.10 In the preliminary inquiry no statements by parties appearing before the Court or committee are taken on oath, nor can the parties be cross-examined on a statement, but any statement made is there and then, or at a later stage, read over to the party making it and signed by the party whose signature is witnessed by a member of the Court or committee. The party may then amend or correct any particular statement made, and such amendment or correction shall then be added to the original document and signed and witnessed as above.

Treatment of same 4.11 No statements made at the preliminary inquiry shall be regarded as formal evidence should the Court decide to proceed further with the case, but such statements, being documents in the case may, when such witnesses are being examined in judicial process, be received in evidence for the purpose of contradicting the present testimony of the witness.

Charge insubstantial 4.12 If the Court finds that the alleged offence is apparently well substantiated, yet is of a nature not calling for censure, the Court may thereupon decide to admonish the alleged offender, but the alleged offender shall have the right to object and to claim a formal process of trial.

Judicial Process 4.13 If the Court finds that the alleged offence is apparently well substantiated and the action proposed in the preceding Rule will not in its judgement meet the case, it shall then proceed by judicial process.

PART 5 - JUDICIAL PROCESS

Suspension 5.01 If the Court resolves to proceed by judicial process: (a) The accused person may be suspended from office by the Court until the case is finally disposed of if the Court considers this to be advisable in the general interest of the Church, and having regard to the nature of the alleged offence. In the case of a minister or professor, or other salaried officer of the Assembly, such suspension shall not affect the right to stipend or salary, except in the case and in the proportion hereinafter provided for. (see under Church censure).

Prosecutors (b) If the charge is at the instance of the Court itself, or by direction of a higher Court, one or more members (not being complainants) are appointed to act as prosecutor or prosecutors. Such prosecutors shall not thereafter deliberate or vote in the case. It is the duty of prosecutors to prosecute the charge conscientiously and fairly.

Copy of Evidence (c) The Court shall furnish the accused with the names of the witnesses who are to give evidence against the accused, and the titles of books or articles or reports of speeches to be produced in evidence by the prosecutors.

Witnesses (d) If the case deals in whole or in part with moral character, or in other cases if appropriate, a list of the names and addresses of witnesses who are to give evidence against the accused shall be supplied by the prosecutors to the accused, and the accused shall supply to the Clerk of the Court for the prosecutors a list of the names and addresses of witnesses whom the accused intends to call. In each instance such information shall be supplied at least seven days before being dealt with by the Court.

Incapacity to Plead 5.02 An allegation of incapacity to plead on the ground of insanity or otherwise must be disposed of before any further proceedings in a case.

Confession 5.03 If the accused person at any stage admits the offence or offences and the Court is satisfied with the confession, this fact is recorded in the minutes and the Court may proceed to a judgement forthwith of such a nature as the offence seems to require.
Church Adviser 5.04 An accused person may with the approval of the Court have the assistance of a minister or communicant member of the Presbyterian Church as adviser of the accused. (Such a person, if appointed will be known as a 'Church adviser').

Presence of Church Adviser 5.05 The Church adviser counsels and assists the accused in the conduct of the case (including any appeal), and, as well as the accused, is entitled:
(a) to put questions to witnesses,
(b) to answer questions put by the Court,
(c) to speak with or in lieu of the accused when the case of the accused is presented.
At the request of the accused the Church adviser may be heard at the close of the evidence prior to the Court considering its finding.

Accused to be present 5.06 When an accused has the assistance of a Church adviser the accused must be present during the hearing of the case unless the Court sanctions the absence of the accused.

Church Adviser has no vote 5.07 A Church adviser may not deliberate or vote in the case and is subject to the authority of the Court before which the Church adviser appears.

Recall of Authority 5.08 The Court may at any time during the case recall its approval for the Church adviser to act as such, should the Church adviser's conduct give occasion for it, in which event the Church adviser shall not be entitled to take any further part in the case. In such circumstances the accused may appoint another Church adviser approved by the Court.

Form of charge 5.09 A charge (previously known as a libel) consists of three parts as follows:
(a) the first part, known as the major premise or proposition, sets forth the nature of the offence charged, and declares it to be punishable according to the Word of God and the laws of the Church,
(b) the second part, known as the minor premise, asserts that the accused is guilty of that offence and narrates the facts involving the accused's guilt, specifying time, place, and circumstances, in one or more distinct counts, and

(c) the third part, known as the conclusion, states the necessity for punishment, if the accusation be found proven or confessed.

The Court concerned may in all cases determine whether or not the prosecutors shall have the costs reimbursed by the Court.

Settlement by Procurator

5.14 The proposed charge must be submitted by the prosecutors through the Law Agent of the General Assembly to the Procurator of the General Assembly for settlement. In settling the charge the Procurator considers whether the charge is in form and substance one which may properly be proceeded with in accordance with the laws and rules of the Church.

The Procurator:

(a) settles the charge and in particular settles it so that it conforms with the said laws and rules; or

(b) advises the prosecutors that he is not able to settle the proposed charge (whether due to deficiency or otherwise), in which case the charge proceeds no further unless the Court resolves that the charge shall be proceeded with notwithstanding such advice.

A Court cannot consider the relevancy of a charge unless and until the form of charge has been settled by the Procurator or the Procurator has advised the prosecutors in terms of paragraph (b) above.

Settled charge

5.15 The prosecutor must seek to prepare the charge and have it submitted to the Procurator for settlement as soon as practicable after the resolution to proceed with the charge by judicial process has been carried. The Procurator shall settle the charge, or advise the Prosecutors as specified in Rule 5.14, as soon as practicable. Once settled the charge must be submitted promptly to the Court.

Copy of charge for accused

5.16 When the charge is submitted to the Court and approved by it, the Court instructs that a copy attested by the Clerk is delivered to the accused either personally by someone authorised by the Court, or by confirmed delivery letter addressed to the accused at the accused's last known place of residence. A preliminary list of witnesses and a list of the documents in the case shall be attached to the charge.

Citation of accused 5.17

When delivering the charge the Court cites the accused if present, or orders that the accused be cited, to appear at a meeting to be held 10 or more days later for the purpose of:
(a) receiving any statement the accused may desire to make, and
(b) considering the relevancy of the charge.

Relevancy of charge 5.18

At the meeting held on the day appointed by the Court under Rule 5.17 the Court calls for the parties, hears any statement the accused may desire to make, and then proceeds to consider the relevancy of the charge. The prosecutors are entitled to be heard in support of the relevancy and the accused against it.

Details of Relevancy 5.19

The relevancy of a charge includes two questions:
(a) whether the offence alleged against the accused is truly punishable according to the Word of God and the laws of the Church, and
(b) whether, if so, the allegations, if proved or admitted, would be sufficient to convict the accused of the offence and render the accused liable to punishment.

Amendment of Charge 5.20

Before deciding the question of relevancy the Court may, if it see cause, give leave to amend the charge.

Finding of irrelevancy 5.21

If the charge is found by the Court to be irrelevant it is dismissed. If the Court finds the charge partly relevant and partly irrelevant, it may proceed on the relevant portion.
Effect of objection or appeal

5.22 A formal objection or an appeal by the accused against the relevancy of the charge shall not stay procedure but it is to be noted and shall be included as part of any appeal by the accused at a later stage.

Procedure on relevancy

5.23 When a Court has found a charge relevant it formally asks the accused whether the accused acknowledges the truth of the charge. If the accused then confesses, the fact of the confession is recorded in the minutes and the Court pronounces sentence.

If charge denied

5.24 If the accused denies the truth of the charge the Court fixes a date not less than 14 days thereafter for hearing the case and resolves that parties and witnesses be cited.

Procedure on hearing

5.25 When the Court meets to deal with the merits of the case the procedure is as follows:

(a) The Moderator of the Court shall solemnly announce from the chair that the Court is about to pass to the consideration of the case, and invite members of the Court to recollect and regard their high character as judges of a court of Christ’s Church and to consider the solemn duty in which they are about to engage.

(b) The Clerk announces the charge and by whom and against whom it is made.

(c) The Court enters in its records that the accused has been duly cited and has appeared or has failed to appear.

(d) Parties are called.

(e) The opening statement by one of the prosecutors is heard.

(f) Witnesses for the prosecution are examined, cross-examined, and, if necessary, re-examined.

(g) The opening statement for the defence is heard.
(h) Witnesses for the defence are examined, cross examined, and, if necessary, re-examined.

(i) Parties or any member of the Court who may desire fuller information on any point may ask for it.

(j) The record is then closed.

(k) Parties are heard in the following order:
    (1) the prosecutors;
    (2) the accused and/or the accused's adviser;
    (3) one of the prosecutors in reply.
    No statements of fact outside the record are admissible, either for or against the accused.

(l) Parties are removed from the bar and the Court proceeds to consider and reach its decision.

(m) Parties are recalled to the bar and informed of the decision of the Court. This decision is final and given effect to forthwith unless notice of appeal to a higher Court is then given. The Moderator of a lower Court shall inform the parties that they have such right of appeal to a higher Court.

(n) An appeal by the accused or the prosecutor, or by a member of the Court, stays the execution of the judgement, but the suspension of the accused from office, if already determined on by the Court, remains in force until such appeal is disposed of. If, however, the Court acquits the accused on all charges, it may remove such suspension, even if an appeal is taken against such acquittal.

(o) If the Court decides that the charge has not been proven, or that the accused is not guilty, this finding is duly intimated to the parties. If no appeal is taken by the prosecutor or a member of the Court, the case is Additions to finding

5.26 A Court may accompany its finding on a case with such expression of opinion or advice as may seem to it to be suitable.

Reference on censure

5.27 Prior to coming to a decision as to what admonition or censure shall be imposed the Court may, at that stage, refer the case to a higher Court.

PART 6 - APPEALS

Appeal, when made

6.01 Notice of appeal must be made immediately after the finding of the Court is intimated. The appellant shall then have 21 days (or such further period as the said Court may allow) to submit the written appeal with the reasons thereof, otherwise the appeal is held to be fallen from. The Clerk of the Court gives written acknowledgement of the receipt of the written appeal.

Amendment of appeal

6.02 The appellant may with the leave of the Court to which appeal is made, amend or add to the reasons of appeal provided that the Court is satisfied that due notice of such amendment or addition has been given to the respondents.

Answers

6.03 Written answers to reasons for appeal may be lodged with the Court but are not obligatory.

Charge found proven

6.04 If the charge, in whole or in part, is found proven by the appellate Court, whose judgement finally disposes of the case, the Court may either confirm any censure appealed against or pronounce any other censure as it deems sufficient.

Other appeals, effect of 6.05 Notwithstanding other appeals a case may be continued up to and including the finding as to the committal or non-committal of the alleged offence.

If no appeal is taken against that finding all previous appeals taken during the proceedings are held to be fallen from.

| Access to documents 7.21 | (a) Subject to Rules 7.10 and 7.21(d) to (f), the prosecutors on the one hand and an accused and his or her professional advisers on the other hand have the right, at all reasonable times prior to and during hearings, to inspect statements and documents which are to be tendered or relied upon by the other party as evidence in the hearing.
(b) Either the prosecutors or the accused may seek an adjournment of a hearing on the grounds that the party is prejudiced from having insufficient time to review and answer evidence (oral or documentary) which has been provided to that party. The Court will, after hearing the parties on that application, determine it immediately. Any objection or appeal against such determination shall not stay procedure but is to be noted and shall be included as part of any appeal.
(c) This Rule is in addition to Rules 5.01(c) and (d) and 7.10.
(d) In relation to any documents produced under citation or request (see Rule 7.17 and Part 8 generally), and in relation to any evidence, the Court will uphold any objection taken on grounds which would support a successful claim of privilege or immunity in a court of law, including client legal privilege and privilege against self-incrimination. |
Such objection may be taken by the prosecutors, the accused or any other person with a legitimate interest in upholding the privilege or immunity. For the purpose of determining the objection the Court may, in the absence of the prosecutors and the accused as appropriate, by itself or by a committee appointed by the Court inspect the documents and hear the evidence. If the objection is upheld by the Court or its committee, the court shall disregard that document or evidence in its consideration and determination of the matter.

(e) In relation to any documents produced under citation or request (see Rules 7.27 and Part 8 generally), and in relation to any evidence, the Court on application by the prosecutors, the accused or any other person with a legitimate interest in the confidentiality of the documents or evidence may determine that the documents or evidence is or are confidential and take such action as it considers just in order to protect such confidentiality, balancing the confidentiality of the documents or evidence against the interests of the parties in fairly presenting the case. Such action may include restricting access to the documents or evidence to the members of the Court and to professional advisers who are experts in the field to which the documents or evidence relate and/or seeking a signed non-disclosure and confidentiality undertaking from persons to whom the documents or evidence are disclosed prior to such disclosure. For the purpose of determining the confidentiality claim the Court by itself or by a committee appointed by the Court may, in the absence of prosecutors and the accused as appropriate, inspect the documents and hear the evidence.
For the purposes of Rule 7.21(d) and (e), a person with a legitimate interest includes the director or other chief executive of a child protection unit of a church organisation and a director or other chief executive of a church organisation which deals with complaints of abuse of authority by church members or similar matters (whatever the age of the person allegedly abused), or in either case a person authorised by that director or chief executive to make such an application or applications of that type.

PART 8 - CITATIONS AND CONTUMACY

Oral citation of parties and Witnesses 8.01 Parties and witnesses, if present in the Court, may be cited orally, and the fact of such citation must be recorded in the minutes. Parties and witnesses, not present in the Court, are cited in due form, and the fact of such citation having been ordered is recorded in the minutes.

Citation of Court 8.02 A lower Court is cited through its Moderator or Clerk.

Dispensing with citation 8.03 Formal citation may at times be (and in the Session generally is) dispensed with but no one can be called to account for disregarding any other than a regular citation.

Service of Citation 8.04 A written citation is duly served on a party or witness when delivered to the person personally by the hand of someone authorised by the Court, or sent by confirmed delivery letter to the person's last known place of residence.

Contumacy in others 8.12 Other persons found guilty of contumacy, either in neglecting a citation or in any other respect, in the course of any proceedings, may be dealt with summarily by the Court after first giving the person the opportunity of being heard.

PART 9 - CHURCH CENSURES

Essentials to censure 9.01 A Court may impose a censure where a charge has been confessed or regularly proven in the course of judicial process.

Contempt of Court 9.02 Contempt of court committed in the presence of the Court may be summarily dealt with.

Consideration of sentence 9.03 When:
(a) a charge has been confessed, or
(b) a Court has found a charge proven, and
(i) no appeal has been taken against its decision, or
(ii) any appeal has been dismissed by a higher Court and the higher Court has not itself determined censure, the Court, after hearing addresses from the prosecutors (if they so wish) and from the accused and/or the accused's advisor (if they so wish), considers what sentence should be pronounced upon the offender. The sentences of the Court are called censures.

Sentence 9.04 When a Court has determined what censure is due in a case of discipline it calls upon the offender to appear and, on the offender's appearance, the Moderator in the name and presence of the Court informs the offender of the finding of the Court. If the offender does not appeal the Moderator then pronounces sentence and addresses the offender in terms befitting the nature and circumstances of the case.

Sentence in absence 9.05 If, when duly cited once, the offender does not appear to receive the censure the offender is called at the door three times. If the offender fails to appear the Moderator pronounces sentence in the offender's absence and intimation thereof is forwarded to the offender by confirmed delivery letter to the offender's last known address.

Church censures 9.06 Church censures are: rebuke, suspension, deposition, and excommunication. Rebuke may be also used in the circumstances described in Rule 4.06 as an alternative to admonition.

Admonition 9.07 Admonition is not a Church censure. If a person is censured, the person cannot be proceeded against in respect of the same charge again. Admonition is a solemn address to an offender which sets out the offence before the offender and exhorts the offender to watchfulness. This is usually the mode of dealing with offences which have arisen from error of judgement. In resolving to admonish it is desirable that the resolution contain the following words: "Without prejudice to adjudicating upon the offence in question in the future if it should assume a different aspect or faults of a similar character should be alleged."

Rebuke 9.08 Rebuke is a solemn reproof and is administered to persons guilty of serious offences as proven in judicial process or, if confessed, in the circumstances stated in Rule 4.06 as an alternative to admonition.

Suspension 9.09 Suspension is a form of censure more severe than a rebuke, and prohibits the offender from exercising the functions of office or the rights and privileges of membership in the Church. This is to be distinguished from suspension under Rule 3.12, 3.12A or 5.01, which is not in the nature of a censure.

When resorted to

Suspension is resorted to when the offence has been repeated after rebuke or when the continued exercise of office or of privileges by the offender would be injurious to religion.

Period of suspension

Suspension may be for a specified period or indefinitely according to the gravity of the offence and the circumstances of the case.

Effect of

If an offender suspended from the rights and privileges of Church membership is also an office-bearer, the offender is thereby suspended also from the offender's office. If the offender's suspension is the act of a higher Court notice thereof must be given to the lower Court of which the offender is a member.

Limitation in effect

Suspension from office does not of itself imply suspension from the rights and privileges of Church membership.

Suspension of minister

Suspension of a minister from office for indefinite duration involves the dissolution of the pastoral tie or, for other officer of the Church, the person ceasing to hold such office. If the suspension is for a limited period exceeding six months it shall also involve the dissolution of the pastoral tie or ceasing to hold such office unless the Court otherwise direct.

Stipends and salaries

In the case of a settled minister, professor or other officer of the Church, when the final sentence is suspension for six months or under, the Presbytery may set apart stipend or salary monies, not exceeding one-half of the total available, for the supply of ordinances or the maintenance of such office. Such sentence shall be equivalent to a legal assignment by the minister, professor or other officer of the Deposition takes place only in the case of a minister or other office-bearer. It consists of depriving the offender of office and of every right enjoyed by the offender as an office-bearer and is inflicted on account of some very grave offence or of heresy. It is pronounced by the Moderator, after prayer, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Sentence of deposition is not pronounced until after judicial process unless the offence has been confessed or committed in presence of the Court or has been an act of contumacy.

Sentence of deposition passed by a lower Court is reported to the State Assembly.

A minister or other officer deposed from office or suspended indefinitely is not eligible for election to the office of elder.

Excommunication - In cases of:
(a) contumacious resistance to the authority of the Courts of the Church,
(b) flight from discipline, or
(c) peculiar aggravation where the offence, although fully proved, is obstinately denied, or if acknowledged is justified, and the offender continues unrepentant the offender may be declared no longer a member or office-bearer of the Church and the offender's name is removed from the roll or rolls accordingly.

A licentiate who is found guilty of a very grave offence or of heresy is deprived of the licentiate's licence.

11.3 A committee shall appoint its own executive and/or sub-committees and shall arrange the work of the committee as it shall see fit.

11.4 Committees are encouraged, where appropriate, to do business other than in face to face meetings with care being taken to preserve the rights of all members.

NATIONAL SAFE MINISTRY FRAMEWORK

(Pursuant to GAA 2019, Min. 43(4), this text has been enumerated to “simplify navigation, reference and communication.”)

Preamble
This document is a national Statement of approach – in principles, policies, practices and procedures – that seeks to achieve so far as possible the uniform protection against abuse of children by or within the Church’s organisations. It is to be read as working within, subject to, interpreted by, and administered in accordance with, the laws of the relevant State or Territory of the Commonwealth and the laws of the Church. It is not itself a law of the Church and does not of its own force override or modify the laws of the Church or laws of the relevant State or Territory in which it is being administered. Church organisations must be familiar with and act in accordance with those relevant secular and Church laws including the Church’s national Code of Discipline (which itself is subject to secular laws). Church organisations in each State and Territory undertake to conform so far as possible to this statement in their particular principles, policies and practices and procedures, taking into account differences in secular and Church law in different States and Territories.

Some State churches cover in their jurisdiction one or more of the Territories of the Commonwealth. Although a reference to Territory is not specifically mentioned each time secular law of a State is referred to, those State churches will need to be careful in the appropriate presbyteries or charges of the Church to abide by Territory law if it differs from that of the State. There may in due course be Commonwealth secular law that needs to be followed as well.

Introduction
The Presbyterian Church of Australia (PCA) is a national church formed by the federation of six formerly colonial churches in 1901. The national church was given powers legislative, administrative and judicial. These were supreme in relation to specified matters including doctrine, worship and discipline. Otherwise, they were concurrent with the State assemblies’ powers.

The maintenance of safe ministry practices rests, generally, with the State churches but behaviour that is contrary to the Standards of the Church or an obligation imposed on a minister or member of the Church by the word of God or a law of the Church is also subject to consideration under the Code of Discipline.
Careful management of these overlapping domains is as necessary as it is challenging. It is expressly recognised in rule 1.13(b) of the Code of Discipline that child protection policies are congruent with the ends of discipline expressed in rule 1.02. This is because putting in place proper measures to protect children and to forestall an alleged offender against his or her alleged propensity is for “the glory of God, the purity of the Church and the spiritual good of the alleged offender”.

Additionally, Commonwealth and State governments are entitled to, and do, enact legislation that impacts on the Church in various ways, including in the area of child protection. It is therefore necessary for the State churches to be cognisant of legislation and regulations applicable in their State, and to determine particular procedures to ensure compliance with their State-specific obligations.

To assist the Church in its attention to these matters, it is both desirable and necessary that a uniform and consistent approach to the protection of children be adopted within the PCA and across all of the State churches. At the request of the GAA, the persons appointed to manage these matters by the State Assemblies in New South Wales, Queensland and Victoria have worked with Assembly Officers to prepare this Framework which is offered to the Church with the prayer that it might advance God’s glory, protect children from harm, help the Church to maintain a good reputation with outsiders, and guide potential offenders away from the destructive paths of sin.

This Safe Ministry Framework is presented in three parts: principles, policy and procedures. The Safe Ministry Principles are the high-level ideals to which the PCA is committed. The Safe Ministry Policy particularises the Church’s commitments and sets out the mechanism by which the Church’s pursuit of its principles is governed. The Safe Ministry Procedures then set out specific steps and actions to be taken in the implementation of the Safe Ministry Policy. All three parts belong together and none can be separated from the others.

Part I: National Safe Ministry Principles

1. Fundamental Conviction
We remember at all times that we are representing the Lord Jesus Christ in all our conduct and we will, accordingly, strive to refrain from any action that is contrary to Scripture or a law of the land consistent with Scripture or which violates the requirements of biblical ethics, striving to ensure that all our conduct is motivated by love for God and a desire to commend him and to promote his glory.
1.2 Statement of Commitment
The Presbyterian Church of Australia (PCA) is committed to ensuring that a safe environment is established and maintained for all persons associated with the Church and for those accessing its services, especially children. The Church requires all paid employees and all volunteers serving within it to create an environment that will help people flourish and cause no harm particularly harm arising from emotional, physical, or sexual abuse; or neglect.

The Presbyterian Church of Australia recognises its obligation to
1. Ensure the safety and wellbeing of all children (being persons under the age of 18) involved in its activities.
2. Implement policies and procedures to safeguard children from child abuse or harm including emotional, physical, or sexual abuse, or neglect.
3. Refuse to tolerate any behaviour that might result in child abuse or harm.

1.3 Values
1.3.1 Love and compassion The Presbyterian Church of Australia, and its State Churches, is bound by the example of the love and compassion of Jesus Christ in his ministry.

1.3.2 Service to others The unique nature of servanthood, which Jesus Christ demonstrated to his disciples and which they then encouraged Christians to display, is the foundation of the Safe Ministry Principles.

1.3.3 Humility Jesus spoke of himself as being a servant of others and not one who came to be served. Paul, in his letter to the Philippians, encourages us not to live with a selfish purpose, but with humility, thinking of others as better than ourselves. As people chosen by God to serve him in obedience, we are to live as those who watch out for what is good for others rather than watching out for our own good.

1.3.4 Gentleness Paul urges the early Church to let their gentleness show in their treatment of all people.

1.3.5 Nurture and protection As a Church we are to nurture and protect children. This responsibility rests on everyone involved in church life.

1.3.6 Respect

The Safe Ministry Principles seek to inform the Church and create a culture which promotes respectful relationships and maintains an ongoing safe environment free of abuse of children. Whilst this responsibility rests immediately with leaders and those involved in ministry to children, it is also a shared responsibility of the whole Church.

1.3.7 Christian faith and practice

Those serving in leadership and working directly with children and young people, accept a position of trust which places on them a commitment to carry out their role in accord with the Doctrine and Christian values of the Church.

1.3.8 Consistency and integrity

Breaches of the Safe Ministry Protocols by any person, regardless of position, are taken seriously and may result in the questioning of that persons’ capacity to continue to serve, as well as the implementation of boundaries deemed necessary to protect children.

1.3.9 Accountability

The Church can be one of the few places where an Offender or Person of Concern, as a recipient of God’s love and grace, can find a Christian welcome, Scriptural teaching and encouragement to grow in Christ. However, participation in the life of a Christian church or organisation is not a guarantee of Christlike behaviour nor a guarantee against repeating past sinful behaviour that has been abusive and caused harm. Therefore, the Church must communicate clear expectations and firm boundaries with transparency and accountability in relation to an Offender or Person of Concern who participates in the life of the Church. This helps to ensure that the Church is safe for children.

1.3.10 Foundational Principles

In our aim to create a safe environment and in our quest to ensure that children are protected from abuse and harm, the following principles must guide the behaviour expected of all persons involved in ministry-related activities:

- Become familiar with and act in accordance with the National Safe Ministry Framework (including its Principles, Policy, and Procedures) and any Code of Conduct and specific Procedures established by the relevant State Church
- Understand that perpetration of any physical, psychological or emotional harm or neglect, or sexual abuse or exploitation is unacceptable, that it will be treated seriously and sensitively, and that it must be reported in accordance with the Church’s Mandatory Reporting Policy and Procedures
In all aspects of personal life and relationships and at all times, strive to act according to the highest standards, demonstrating courtesy, consideration and good judgement.

Treat all people with respect and dignity regardless of age, culture, gender, religious affiliation, personal circumstances or any other point of differentiation.

Accept and exercise the duty of care appropriate for each and all participants.

In accord with Scripture, engage only in lawful activity and never assist persons engaged in illegal activities.

Strive to carry out all relevant roles in accordance with the doctrines and values of the Presbyterian Church of Australia.

Respect the authority of leaders and act in accordance with reasonable directions.

Only engage in actions and activities that are appropriate for children where ministry-related activities involve children.

Complete any and all training required by the Church in relation to ministry roles; and Create and maintain appropriate resources for use and training in ministry.

As the application of these National Principles in specific situations requires interpretation, those involved in ministry must seek advice if placed in a position of uncertainty.

Part II: National Safe Ministry Policy

2.1 Governance: Roles and Responsibilities

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Australia (GAA) has supreme authority within all parts of the Church in matters covered by Article 2.1 of the Articles of Agreement. Its responsibility in relation to discipline (Article 2.1((c)) obligates it to seek the fullest possible uniformity between Church-based policies and procedures in the several States, and secular laws applying in the relevant State. The GAA approves and adopts this Framework and encourages State Assemblies to adopt this statement of Principles, Policy and Procedures, and put in place safe ministry practices that are in line with this statement and with legislative requirements of the relevant State.

The GAA affirms the adoption across the PCA of the Child Safe Standards identified by the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse (Royal Commission) as follows:
1. Child safety is embedded in institutional leadership, governance and culture
2. Children participate in decisions affecting them and are taken seriously
3. Families and communities are informed and involved
4. Equity is upheld and diverse needs are taken into account
5. People working with children are suitable and supported
6. Processes to respond to complaints of child sexual abuse are child-focused
7. Staff are equipped with the knowledge, skills and awareness to keep children safe through continual education and training
8. Physical and online environments minimise the opportunity for abuse to occur
9. Implementation of the Child Safe Standards is continuously reviewed and improved
10. Policies and procedures document how the institution is child safe.

The Clerk of the GAA is responsible to oversee and co-ordinate the maintenance of a National Register which contains limited but sufficient information to assist affiliated institutions to identify and respond to any risks to children that may be posed by people in ministry. The Clerk of the GAA is also responsible to ensure effective liaison between the State churches so that any risks that may be posed by people in ministry are identified and receive an appropriate response.

Within its area of jurisdiction, each State Assembly is responsible for:

- Governing the implementation of this Policy and associated procedures and Code of Conduct for interacting with children;
- Initiating, developing and amending child protection procedures under their State structures which must accord with any mandatory specific requirements of secular State legislation and any associated requirements applicable in their State.
- Ensuring that appropriate information, training, instruction, supervision, monitoring, auditing and resourcing is available to maintain an environment that is safe for all persons, particularly children;
- Ensuring that an appropriate person or body is appointed to oversee the implementation of this Policy and associated procedures including the Code of Conduct (if any) enacted by the State Assembly; and procedures mandated within secular law applicable within its area of jurisdiction;
• Ensuring that all ministers, licentiates, deaconesses and other ministry workers remain compliant with State-based Working with Children Check or equivalent legislation;
• Establishing a mechanism by which the State church ensures that it is reliably informed on issues of child sexual abuse and child safety including prevention, policies and procedures and complaint handling; and
• Providing mechanisms whereby all allegations of child sexual abuse will be referred to the person or body appointed by the State Assembly to provide oversight of any such allegation and any perceived or real conflicts of interest that may arise from individuals responding to complaints of child sexual abuse in the investigative, judicial or pastoral processes.

Within their bounds, Presbyteries have oversight of Sessions and must strive to ensure that each and every Session is compliant with the Safe Ministry Framework, relevant secular legislation, and the Code of Conduct (if any) and statement of procedures established by the relevant State church.

Sessions have oversight of all ministries operated within their congregations and must annually review all ministries conducted within the Charge and, without limiting their responsibility, minute:
• Approval of proposed programs, activities, and the people authorised to lead them; and
• Their commitment to the Safe Ministry Framework, relevant secular legislation, and the Code of Conduct (if any) and statement of procedures established by the relevant State church.

Assembly Committees with oversight of children’s ministry and activities are considered to have the same responsibilities as Sessions.

2.2 All instructions of the Church to be faithfully observed
Any body or person within the Church with responsibility for the employment or appointment of another person (the appointee) to a role that includes oversight or interaction with children is responsible to ensure that all instructions of the Church are observed faithfully, regardless of whether the appointee’s role is performed on a paid or voluntary basis.

2.3 Liberty to report
Any person has the liberty to report directly to external agencies and supervising bodies within the Church any allegations or matters of suspicion of risk of sexual abuse or harm, noting that the purpose of reporting to the Church is to ensure that the Church can take action promptly to protect children.

An adult who claims to have been a victim of child sexual abuse but who does not want to press charges or to be involved in a criminal complaint will be advised that the person or body appointed by the relevant State Church to receive such allegations will report the matter to State Police for information without disclosing that adult’s name. If the State Police advise that the matter will not proceed, the person or body appointed by the relevant State Church to receive such allegations will initiate action to determine the plausibility of the allegation always in accordance with procedural fairness and to take such action as may be necessary to protect children from harm.

2.4 Obligations of State Churches

Within its area of jurisdiction, and in the provision of children’s ministry, each State church will demonstrate commitment to, capability for, and consistency in:

- Adhering to this Policy governing the interaction of adults with children;
- Implementing State-based procedures in accordance with this Policy in pursuit of the highest levels of safety and care;
- Educating and training all those involved in ministry in their duties and responsibilities in a determined endeavour to ensure that all persons involved in children’s ministry are familiar with this Policy and any State-based procedures made in accordance with this Policy, whether those persons are engaged on a paid or voluntary basis;
- Selecting, recruiting, training and managing persons engaged or to be engaged in children’s ministry within the Church;
- Supporting those involved in ministry as they carry out their roles;
- Providing management systems to ensure compliance with:
  - the relevant State’s laws and its Working with Children Check or equivalent,
  - this Policy and any State-based procedures established in accordance with this Policy;
- Requiring all Ministers, Elders, Managers, employees and children’s ministry volunteers to hold a current Working with Children Check or equivalent clearance and to agree to adhere to this Policy and any State-based procedures established in accordance with this Policy, and to undertake Safe Ministry training before working with children within the Church and at such other times as may be required by the responsible body.
- Overseeing risk management of activities and implementing management plans for high-risk activities and special events to ensure the safety of children;
- Implementing appropriate steps to manage persons known to pose a risk to children, in order to create an abuse-prevention and response framework which prioritizes the safety of children;
- Offering pastoral care and support to victims of sexual abuse and those impacted by that abuse;
- Offering pastoral care and support to any member of the Church known or alleged to have offended against a child; and
- Adequately insuring approved programs, events and activities to the extent such insurance is reasonably available.

2.5 Disclosure, investigation and responsible action

To ensure effective disclosure and investigation of suspicions of abuse and harm, and consistency in the management of breaches of this Policy, the following obligations are established throughout the Church:

- Any allegation, or reasonable suspicion of risk of harm of a child, is to be referred to the person or body appointed by the relevant State church to receive such allegations or suspicions in order to facilitate consultation with the State Police Service or Child Protection Agency without delay and to take appropriate steps to manage the risk to children.

- Any allegation of sexual abuse made against a person involved in ministry or leadership within the Church (being ministers, elders, managers, or other roles whether paid or unpaid), is to be reported immediately to the person or body appointed by the relevant State church to receive such allegations in order to facilitate consultation with the State Police Service or Child Protection Agency without delay and to obtain guidance therefrom concerning investigative needs, and (in accordance with the Code of Discipline), the appropriate Court of the Church will promptly consider and determine whether the person concerned should be suspended from working with children and any other ministry or leadership function until the matter has been investigated by Police.

- If, in respect of an inducted minister, a positive Working with Children Check or equivalent is withdrawn, suspended, barred or revoked, the fact must be reported without delay to the relevant Presbytery and the Presbytery will urgently consider the need to sever the pastoral tie as an administrative action separate from the Code of Discipline or to take other action to remove the minister from child-related activities and will monitor whether such action remains sufficient and take further administrative action as required. Subsequent action may be taken under the Code of Discipline.

- If, in respect of an employee of the Church, a positive Working with Children Check or equivalent is withdrawn, suspended, barred or revoked, the fact must be reported without delay to the relevant employer and the employer will urgently consider the need to terminate that person’s employment as an administrative action separate from the Code of Discipline or to take other action (if possible) such as removal from child-related activities and will monitor whether such action remains sufficient and take further administrative action as required. Subsequent action may be taken under the Code of Discipline.

- If a minister is the subject of a substantiated complaint of child sexual abuse or is convicted of child sexual abuse, the censure to be applied by the Presbytery in accordance with the Code of Discipline will be deposition from the ministry or the censure under the Code of Discipline appropriate to the nature of the offence found.

- If an elder is the subject of a substantiated complaint of child sexual abuse or is convicted of child sexual abuse, the censure to be applied by the Session in accordance with the Code of Discipline will be deposition from the eldership or the censure under the Code of Discipline appropriate to the nature of the offence found.

- If any other person is the subject of a substantiated complaint of child sexual abuse, or is convicted of child sexual abuse, or their Working with Children Check or equivalent is withdrawn, suspended, barred or revoked, the fact must be reported without delay to the body holding jurisdiction within the Church and that body will urgently consider the need to remove that person forthwith from the exercise of all or some ministry functions and from participation in any leadership roles within the Church including membership of any committee at any level of the Church’s operation.

- Although the appropriate Court of the Church may instigate Disciplinary proceedings against a member under the provisions of the Code of Discipline at any time, rule 1.13(g) of the Code of Discipline requires that disciplinary proceedings must “not prejudice investigations and prosecution procedures under State law”.

- Where a Court of the Church becomes aware that any person attending any of its services or activities:
  - is the subject of a substantiated complaint of child sexual abuse, o has been convicted of an offence relating to child sexual abuse, o has been denied a positive Working with Children Check or equivalent, or whose Positive Working with Children Check or equivalent has been withdrawn, suspended, barred or revoked, or o poses a reasonably-known risk to children, the Court will assess the level of risk posed to children by that person’s ongoing involvement in church activities and take appropriate steps to manage that risk, which may include the implementation of a behavioural agreement.

2.6 Managing Breaches of the Safe Ministry Framework

Overview

All people are sinners and breaches of the Safe Ministry Framework, secular and Church law and procedures will occur, whether by mistake or deliberate intent. Managing breaches requires a high level of judgement and discernment in order to maintain the safety of children and restore the person committing the breach to the expected standard of behaviour, if possible. The overriding consideration must always be the safety of children and the risk to them of an ongoing or repeated breach.

Types of Breaches

Breaches might be non-criminal behaviours which do not meet the standards to be maintained by people working with children. Breaches may also be criminal behaviours. As breaches may differ, so do their consequences. Some may require no more than guidance on correct procedure. Some may require immediate removal from ministry (paid or unpaid).

Action

Action in response to a perceived breach is taken in accord with secular and Church law including the Code of Discipline if applicable and will involve the following steps:

1. Recognise the perceived breach
2. Report the perceived breach
3. Record the perceived breach
4. Remedy the perceived breach

Options for responding to a person who is perceived to have breached the Safe Ministry Framework include (without limitation):

- Immediate removal from Children’s ministry (and, potentially, other ministries);
- Advice from a leader on the correct procedures;
- Further training;
• Working with a more experienced person;
• Restoration to a position of responsibility when the Session is satisfied that the person comprehends and demonstrates the standard of behaviour expected of people in ministry.

Seek the advice of the person or body appointed by the relevant State Church.

Reporting Breaches

Any breach by a paid or volunteer employee is to be reported to the leader or coordinator of the relevant ministry or the Moderator of the relevant supervising body as soon as possible and to the person or body appointed by the relevant State church. The person or body appointed by the relevant State church will ensure that the breach is documented.

3.2 Purpose

The purpose of these national procedures is to guide decision makers and those involved in ministry as they provide and develop a safe environment and ensure compliance with legislation protecting children from harm and abuse. These Procedures apply throughout the PCA.
3.3 Application of the National Procedures within State churches
To allow for differences between legislative frameworks within the several States of Australia, State churches may establish Codes of Conduct and additional procedures to prevent the abuse of children. State-based decisions and provisions must respect and adhere to all relevant State legislation or other enactments as also to the procedures set forth in this document as augmented or amended from time to time by the GAA or the relevant State Assembly. In the event that there is any inconsistency between procedures determined within the Church and particular State legislation, then State legislation prevails and must be followed.

3.4 State churches to define additional procedures for Safe Ministry with Children
State-based procedures will include procedure for conducting Safe Ministry with Children including but not limited to, the following ministry practices:
- Recruitment and management of paid and volunteer employees working with children
- Transport
- Food safety and allergies
- Camps and off-site activities
- Consent to take and use images of people in church
- Toileting children
- Physical contact in ministry
- Child-leader ratios
- Electronic communications including via smart phone and online – particularly in relation to children

3.5 Delegation of Authority
Each state Assembly will delegate authority for implementation of the Safe Ministry Framework and any Code of Conduct and statement of procedures established by the relevant State church to the person or body appointed by the relevant State church.

3.6 Recruitment and Management of Paid and Volunteer Employees working with children
Due to the variance in State legislative requirements, State-based procedures apply to the recruitment of paid and volunteer employees working with children in the church. The following elements must be implemented in State-based procedure and every applicant must:
- Hold a Positive Working with Children Check (or equivalent)
- Undertake an interview
• Answer screening questions relating to past behaviour via completion of a form
• Supply referees as required
• Sign their agreement to adhere to the Safe Ministry with Children Policy, National Principles and Procedures and State-based legislation and procedures (including the applicable State-based Code of Conduct, if any).
• Be provided with a role description
• Complete Safe ministry with Children training within the State-based training procedure.

3.7 Interview Process
All persons desirous of undertaking Children’s ministry must undergo an interview to determine their suitability. The most appropriate time for this to occur is during the verification of details at the time of completing a Working with Children Check (or equivalent) Application when warnings are required under legislation. The interview or conversation should be structured to focus on behaviour traits and values. A suggested approach is to explore:

- The person’s reason for wishing to be engaged in Children’s ministry;
- Their experience in working with children;
- Value based/behaviour questions (e.g. what they consider to be inappropriate actions or conduct with a child);
- Their willingness to comply with the expectations, reasonable directions and decisions of the Session or Committee or higher Court of the Church in regards to their ongoing suitability to work with children in the Church.

3.8 National Register
The PCA National Register records information that assists the Church to identify and respond to any risks posed to children by people in ministry. Information is provided for the register by the person or body appointed by the relevant State church.

The names of all persons who:

- apply for a Working with Children Check (or equivalent),
- are Ministers,
- are missionaries endorsed by APWM, or
- are paid employees or volunteer ministry workers of the Church, require a clearance via a check of the Church National Register by the relevant State-based Safe Ministry with Children Unit before they may be admitted to any new role or ministry.

The National Register includes information about persons who have been involved in the life of the Church, and are or have been:

- Charged with or convicted of an offence or offences against the person – including sexual offences;
- Had a Working with Children Check (or equivalent) clearance withdrawn, suspended, barred or revoked;
- The subject of a substantiated complaint of child sexual abuse;
- Listed on the Sex Offenders Register; and
- Subject to a risk management plan or party to a relevant behavioural agreement under the authority of a relevant Court of the Church.

3.9 The Working with Children Check (or equivalent)
Ministers and elders (and, in some States, managers) are required by secular legislation and/or Church decisions to hold a positive Working with Children Check (or equivalent) to qualify for their role within the congregation.

No minister, elder or (where required) manager may commence work in a new role until they hold a positive Working with Children Check (or equivalent) according to the requirements of the State in which they work or seek to work.

State-based procedure enabling compliance with the relevant Working with Children (or equivalent) legislation must be adhered to by each Court of the Church and all Committees at all levels of the Church’s operation.

3.10 Training
All people involved in ministry must undergo State-based Safe Ministry with Children training. As a minimum, state-based training must educate participants to:

- Champion a culture that prioritises the safety of children from abuse and harm in the Church;
- Understand their responsibilities and obligations under Commonwealth, State or Territory legislation, the Church’s laws including the Code of Discipline, the State or Territory Code of Conduct, and this Safe Ministry Framework;
- Recognise physical and behavioural indicators of child sexual abuse and harm;
- Identify, assess and minimise risks of harm to children;
- Manage disclosures or suspicions of child sexual abuse, harm, and inappropriate behaviour in relation to both children;
- Follow reporting procedure;
• Conduct ministry with children that is safe for leaders and participants;
• Understand the necessity to undertake risk management in relation to both ministry and people;
• Understand and conform to the behaviour expected of team members;
• Understand and protect their personal safety.

3.11 Handling disclosures or suspicions of harm
The Church requires the immediate reporting of all disclosures of child sexual abuse or suspicions of harm of children and is intentionally victim-focused. A suspicion of harm exists when someone has a reasonable suspicion that a child has suffered, is suffering, or is at an unacceptable risk of suffering significant harm. A suspicion of harm can arise from:
• A child telling a person they have been harmed;
• Someone else, for example another child, a parent, employee or volunteer telling a person that harm has or is likely to occur;
• A child telling a person that they know someone who has been harmed;
• A person is concerned about significant changes in the behaviour of a child, or the presence of unexplained injuries; or
• A person sees harm happening.

If a disclosure of child sexual abuse or suspicion of harm relates to a person whom the concerned person would normally report the matter to, the matter is to be reported according to state-based reporting procedure.

In all instances involving disclosures of child sexual abuse or suspicion of harm to a child the parent is to be advised, unless the parent is the person to whom the disclosure relates. This advice is to occur according to the relevant State-based procedures.

The relevant sections of the Safe Ministry Framework must be adhered to in regards to reporting, in addition to any State-based procedures.

The person or body appointed by the relevant State church will ensure that the matter is documented.
3.12 Confidentiality
All disclosures of child sexual abuse or suspicions of harm are to remain confidential between the parties required under State-based procedures for reporting the matter.

3.13 Child-Focussed Complaints Handling
The Church does not inform the person against whom an allegation of child sexual abuse or suspicion of harm has been made until advised to do so by Police and/or the responding governmental agency or as required by secular law. The manner and content of such advice and the taking of steps such as suspension from ministry involving contact with children will be governed by State or Territory-based procedures and where applicable the Code of Discipline and other Church law and in consultation with Police and/or the responding governmental agency.

3.14 Family Violence
Family violence involves violent, abusive or intimidating behaviour carried out by a partner, carer or family member to control, dominate or instil fear. This includes physical, emotional, psychological, sexual, financial or other types of abuse.

If a person has an immediate concern that a child is exposed to or subject to family violence, an urgent report must be made to the Police and the State or Territory child protection agency and State/Territory-based reporting procedure must then be followed.

In the case of family violence against an adult where there are no children in the home, any mandatory reporting requirements in State/Territory legislation must be followed and the victim should be asked if he or she wants the Police notified (unless notification is already mandatory). Appropriate pastoral care and support should be offered including encouragement to contact, and assistance if required to contact, welfare and support agencies such as shelters.

3.15 Offenders and Persons of Concern
When dealing with an Offender or a person who has been properly designated as a Person of Concern, the Session (having due regard to the Code of Discipline 1.13(f)) will implement a management plan which must incorporate the following elements:

- Pastoral support for the Offender or Person of Concern;
- Accountability for the Offender or Person of Concern via regular, consistent and direct supervision;
- Clear boundaries for the participation of the Person of Concern;
- Prioritization of the safety of children in the church.
The boundaries may include, without limitation, that the person must not:

- be alone with children;
- engage with children by electronic, digital or social media platforms;
- be offered any leadership role involving contact with children;
- participate in any activity or groups directed mainly toward children.

In accordance with the obligation of the Session (and all other courts of the Church) to prioritise the safety of children in the Church, the Session may enact a management plan via means including but not limited to:

- Requiring the person to sign a behavioural agreement as a condition of their ongoing participation in the life and activities of the church;
- Allowing a person who refuses to sign a behavioural agreement to still participate in specific aspects of the church’s life provided that they observe the conditions set out in the proposed agreement. The Session, with assistance from the person or body appointed by the relevant State church, will develop a management plan to monitor the person’s conduct, with any unsatisfactory deviation from the plan result in the person being barred from participation in the life of the church, regardless of their membership status. Where a person who refuses to sign a behavioural agreement is a communicant or adherent member of the congregation, they will be informed of their rights under the Code of Discipline;
- Instructing a person who is neither a communicant nor an adherent member of the Church and who refuses to enter into a behavioural agreement to leave the Church and to stay away from it until they can credibly demonstrate their willingness to submit to the authority of the Session;
- Providing spiritual and pastoral care via direct ministry to the person, outside of church services and activities.

3.16 Retention and Disposal of Records and Privacy
Each State Church has an approved Privacy Policy which is to be followed by those involved in ministry.

The Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse found that the average age of abuse was ten years for males and nine years for females and that victims took an average of 22 years to disclose the abuse to which they were subjected. For this reason, it is imperative that records are maintained of all leaders and participants in children’s ministry.
All records pertaining to children’s ministry are to be retained, including parental permissions, children’s information and the names of those involved in children’s ministry programs, activities and events. Records may be maintained in paper or digital format. Records must be maintained for a period of 50 years or as otherwise determined by State-based procedure regarding location and retention of records.

3.17 Support
The person or body appointed by the relevant State church resources the State church in Safe Ministry with children and offers support and assistance to those involved in ministry on child protection concerns and disclosures, behaviour management issues, breaches of the Safe Ministry Framework, secular legislation and procedures established by that State church, risk management and safe standards when conducting ministry.
